By FRANK EMERY
(I. N. S. War Correspondent)

WITH THE FIRST U. S. CAVALRY DIVISION, KOREA, Aug. 18.—The bodies of seven more murdered American soldiers, their faces burned black from a gasoline fire, were found today beside a battle-scarred Korean roadway.

The discovery raised to 39 the number of known war atrocity deaths charged to North Korean Communists in the past two days.

Two accused North Korean executioners of 32 other captive doughboys were positively identified as the mass killers by three of five Americans who escaped from a "gully of death."

Identify Pair

The three Americans, one of them a wounded, red-haired GI lying on a stretcher, picked out the two North Koreans from a group of six Korean Reds on stretchers in a field hospital tent.

The North Koreans were Lt. Kim Kwong Taek and Pvt. Chow Pyong Tak. Kim has a broken leg and Pyong an arm wound.

They were pointed out by Cpl. James Rudd of Salyersville, Ky.;

Hammer Enemy Units At Naktong River, To South

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(Far Eastern Director, I. N. S.)

TOKYO, Aug. 19—(Saturday)—U. S. forces hurled Communist troops back more than four miles on Taegu's northern approaches Friday night and were hammering Red units out of their Changnyong bridgehead south of the menaced provisional capital.

General Douglas MacArthur announced early Saturday that South Korean First Division units regained "from half to all the ground they lost" in Thursday's attack on Taegu by powerful Red forces striking from the north.

The South Koreans, MacArthur added, are "holding firm in the face of the present main enemy effort."

Front dispatches said some Red Units were driven by 24th Division army troops and marines almost into the Naktong river in a fierce counter-attack on the Changnyong bridgehead.

MacArthur reported that the U. E. troops were "pushing back the enemy steadily" in this bridgehead engagement.

The supreme commander's communique said marines on the southern flank of the bridgehead, after meeting stubborn resistance, turned the enemy into the path of 24th Division troops on the north flank.

"This northern sector of the bridgehead," MacArthur said, "is now heavily engaged, late reports indicate."

Recapture Pohang

In a third sector—the east coast—South Korean troops recaptured the town of Pohang, the nearby junction town of Kigye and seized high ground north of Kigye.

MacArthur said several North Korean regiments in the Kigye-Pohang area "are being pushed by united nations forces from the south and west."

The supreme commander reported the situation on the southern frone west of Pusan and in the First Cavalry sector on the northern front remained "unchanged."

Previously, an Eighth Army communique said that in the southern

By JOHN RICH
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

TAEGU, Ag. 18.—(INS)—Thousands upon thousands of South Koreans, some calm but melancholy, some excited and near panic, were streaming out of Communist-threatened Taegu today.

Taegu's normal population of 270,000 was swollen to as much as 400,000 by refugees from as far back as 120 miles to the north, falling back before the North Korean Red invasion.

With North Korean troops ten miles away, the mayor of Taegu ordered all civilians to leave. Minutes after the order was issued at 11:30 a.m. (9:30 p.m. Thursday EDT), the exodus began.

Air Force And Navy Planes Hammer Enemy

Concentrations Behind North Korean Push On Taegu Blasted

(BULLETIN)

TOKYO, Aug. 18.—(INS)—Headquarters announced today that U. S. Air Force and Navy planes gave the enemy their one-two punch again Thursday.

Air force pilots concentrated on bombing and strafing North Korean front line troops and communications, while the navy pilots devoted their attention to military targets above the 38th parallel border.

Troops Hit Hard

A communique said that "North Korean foot troops were hit hard in all sectors," including concentrations directly in back of the big enemy push toward Taegu. These concentrations were located at Sinban-Ni, Uiryong and in the Waegwan area.

F-80 jets and F-51s were particularly active in this front line action, an air force communique added. They strafed and bombed the enemy lines and assembly areas "killing numbers of infantry troops and damaging materiel along the entire front."

At Low Altitudes

Fighters roaring in at low altitudes "hit tanks, vehicles, troop columns and other military targets with excellent results," the headquarters announcement continued.

Farther back from the front, air force and navy pilots on night intruder missions struck in the Seoul, Kumchon, Waegwan and Sunchon areas, claiming destruction of four tanks, 16 trucks and 30 other vehicles, plus damage to many more.

Carrier based navy pilots listed 32 locomotives knocked out and 19 more damaged in their sweeps over the North Korean home territory.

Laying Of Pipe Is Started On New Gas Line To City

Laying of pipe started Thursday on the new 8-inch high pressure gas line that The Manufacturers Light and Heat Co. is constructing to bring an increased supply of natural gas to homes, stores and industries in New Castle.

According to T. J. Foley, local manager, the first length of pipe were laid on the McClelland Farm in North Beaver Township, near the Borough of Bessemer. This is the location where the 26-inch high pressure natural gas line of the Tennessee Gas Transmission Corp. is tapped by the local gas company. The Tennessee line brings natural gas from the southwest to the Buffalo area.

Mr. Foley says that 5½ miles of 8-inch gas line will be laid from this point to the southwestern end of New Castle. It will be then connected into a new regulator station which will reduce gas pressure sufficiently for the new gas supply to enter the distribution departments network of gas mains beneath New Castle's avenues, streets and roads.

Delay Action On U.M.T. Bill

President Steps Consideration Now

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18—(INS)—Congress apparently is ready today to shelve the Universal Military Training Bill until some future date—maybe after elections, maybe nex session.

President Truman put the stop on immediate consideration of UMT when he said at his Thursday news conference that while he was strong for the legislation, he did not want it to get in the way of other emergency matters.

Only the day before, Defense Secretary Johnson told Congress that the President approved immediate action on UMT.

"No Comment"

Confronted with the President's latest statement, the Secretary retired behind a solid defense of "no comment."

The President's news conference remarks caught Congress by surprise. Acting on Johnson's recommendation, Sen. Tydings (D) Md., chairman of the Armed Services Committee, introduced a Defense Department Training Bill.

Mr. Truman declared that the UMT Bill is controversial, and debate on it might delay must legislation now on Capitol Hill. He added that he did not believe such a measure should be brought up late in a congressional session.

NEW ATROCITIES ARE REVEALED IN KOREAN WAR

Cpl. Robert Day, Jr., of El Paso, Tex., and by the wounded GI who raised a bandaged hand and said:

"I am positive they are the ones."

Kim was named as the one who gave the mass execution order after the 32 captured Americans had been stripped down to their undershort and their hands bound behind their backs with telephone wire.

The seven bodies found today are lying near two tanks which were knocked out Wednesday in the battle for strategic Hill 303 near Waegwan, 12 miles northwest of Taegu.

Seven Executed

The scene of the new atrocity was described by Pf. Robert Mauro of Revere, Mass., driver of a Jeep-ambulance. He said one of the seven dead Americans had "a hole in his leg," adding:

"Their faces were blacked as if gasoline had been thrown on them and set afire."

Officers at the front reported to general headquarters that the seven definitely had been executed as had the 32 others.

They were members of the two tank crews consisting of ten men. Their bodies were found beside their tanks. One of the tank crewmen escaped and the other two have not been accounted for.

Williams Brothers Co., Inc., has the contract for laying this new gas line. Some excited civilians raced madly through the streets. Some carried their possessions with them. Others buried them in back yards and elsewhere in hope they will return some day to retrieve them.

These retreats by refugees are a pitiful sight.

Gravely worried parents gathered their children together for the march to the southeast. Some fathers and mothers were frantic because they could not immediately locate their children.

DESSERT-PARTY FOR MARY M. CARRIGAN

Miss Mary Margaret Carrigan, a bride-elect of this week, was the guest of honor at a dessert-party, Thursday evening at Hotel New Penn, hostesses for the evening being her co-workers—girls of the New Castle News.

Early evening hours were spent informally with slogan games and "supplying the word" game entitled, "A Garden Romance." Those winning the prizes included: Jean Gross, Laura Snider, Mrs. Mayy Hute and Mary Virginia Harris.

The door prize was captured by Miss Beulah G. Ruthrauff. Miss Ruthrauff later presented those present with a complimentary copy of cook books.

The delicious dessert was enjoyed later, served on an attractively arranged table. The all-white theme was used and a clever miniature bride and bridegroom centered the table. Place cards of small wedding bells marked the place of those attending.

The honored guest was the recipient of an electrical gift and several other gifts.

The committee in charge of arrangements included: Miss Ruth Thompson and Miss Palma Julian, with Miss Mary Virginia Harris, Mrs. Mayy Hute and Mrs. Rachel Jones in charge of the games.

Miss Carrigan, a news reporter of the New Castle News, will become the bride of Thomas Czar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Czar, of R.D. 3, Beaver Falls on Saturday, August 19. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Carrigan, of 717 Blaine street.

The open church ceremony will be performed in St. Mary's church at 10 a.m. An afternoon open reception will be held at the residence on 717 Blaine street, from 2 to 4 p.m.

BRIDAL SHOWER FOR MISS MARY LAWRENCE

Complimenting Miss Mary Lawrence, who will be married Saturday evening at 7 p. m., to Chester Sankey, a charmingly appointed bridal shower was given on August 15 by Mrs. Fred A. Howland, Jr., at her home on East Washington street.

Floral decorations of gladioli highlighted tre all white prenuptial theme. Lunch was served amid the festive table setting by the hostesses. The honoree was presented with a corsage of gardenias.

Games provided the recreation, with honors being won by Mrs. Shirley Bailey and Mrs. Grace Burnsides.

MARIAN HARTLAND GUEST AT SHOWER

Festive appointments, in keeping with the bridal motif, highlighted the prenuptial shower held Thursday evening for Miss Marian Hartland, with her sisters, Mrs. L. A. Pearsall, Jr., and Mrs. James Dart, as the hostesses at the Dart home, 307 Hillcrest avenue.

Cards were enjoyed by the guests, with high score prizes for 500 being awarded to Mrs. B. E. Hartland and Mrs. L. A. Pearsall, Sr. Mrs. Vera Tarasek was the successful winner in the canasta competition.

An array of miscellaneous gifts was presented to the bride-to-be.

A dainty lunch was served buffet style by the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. John McFarland. Miniature scrolls, tied with wedding bands and ribbon, were inscribed with a clever poem revealing the date of the couple's marriage.

Miss Hartland is the dauhgter of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Hartland, 1101 Highland avenue. Her fiance, Louis Tarasek, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Curuluk, Pennsylvania. The principals will be married Saturday, September 2, at a wedding to take place in the Third U. P. church, with Dr. J. Paul Graham officiating.

MISS MARILYN McKEE TO MARRY AUGUST 25

August 25 is the date chosen by Miss Marilyn McKee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde McKee, New Castle, R. D. 5, for her wedding to Donald M. Hanna, son of Mrs. Ruth T. Hanna, New Castle, R. D. 5.

The home of the bride-elect's parents will be the setting for the wedding at 7:30 p. m.

The wedding anniversaries of Mrs. Audley McKee and Mrs. Parkinson were also honored at this time. Each of the honored guests received a gift from the group.

A tureen luncheon was served at one p.m., the tables being charmingly decorated with flowers, which were later sent to the honor guests.

Mrs. P. G. Herrington of New Brighton was an out-of-town guest. Informal diversions provided the entertainment.

Time and place for the September meeting will be announced.

GOODWILL-LYSIAK EXCHANGE OF VOWS

White nylon marquisette was worn by Miss Ellen Mae Goodwill as she became the bride of Thomas Anthony Lysiak on Wednesday, August 16.

Wedding vows were exchanged by the couple in St. Joseph's church at 9 a.m., with Rev. Fr. Cornelius Becker officiating at the impressive double ring ceremony.

Miss Goodwill is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Goodwill of R. D. 5, and the groom, who resides at 308 Leasure avenue, is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Lysiak of R. D. 5, New Castle.

Given in marriage by her father, the attractive bride's gown was fashioned with satin applique down the entire front of the bodice and skirt. Pretty features were its sweetheart neckline and long sleeves tapering to points at the wrists. Her full skirt fell into a Cathedral train, with satin appliques at the edge. A tiara of orange blossoms and rhinestones caught up her fingertip veil of silk illusion. She carried a prayer book topped with white gladioli.

Miss Irene Goodwill as her cousin's maid of honor was attired in a gown of lavendar organdy. A Peter Pan collar and short puffed sleeves complimented the creation, with a full skirt as an additional accent. She carried a bouquet of yellow gladoli.

Anthony Vendemia served the groom as best man.

Appropriate nuptial selections were provided by Miss Clara Duff at the organ. A dinner for the bridal party was held at the bride's home at noon.

Mr. and Mrs Lysiak later departed for a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination. They will reside at 1206 Delaware avenue upon their return.

The bride, a graduate of the Shenango high school and Youngstown college, is employed as office assistant for Dr. Mildred Rogers. The groom, a graduate of the East Brook high school and Aviation school in Glendale, Calif., is a mechanic at McKee and Warnock's, East Brook.

Walter Lysiak of the U. S. Navy at Norfolk, Va., was present for his brother's wedding. Miss Helen A. Blair of Wellsboro, Pa., was a special guest of the occasion.

Mrs. John McKinley brought honors to the house of McKinley, coming in first in the nine-hole round.

A DANGEROUS RISK

Every loyal American, it is believed, will approve of the government's decision to call for the jailing of the 10 members of the "American Politburo." These 10 Communist party leaders are out on bail pending further appeal of their conviction for criminal conspiracy to advocate and teach the violent overthrow of the American government. The eleventh is already serving sentence for contempt of Congress.

While approving the move, Americans are also entitled to feel misgivings. The right to bail is a traditional American right. Such rights, admittedly, can exist only up to the point where they seriously clash with American security.

But when that security is threatened, as it now is by the Communist-supported aggression in Korea—there is always the temptation to go too far in restricting fundamental freedoms. What was done during World War II to loyal American-born descendants of Japanese forebears is a case in point.

These 10 men were convicted 10 months ago of specifications that included preparing to touch off violence against the United States during some future crisis. A crisis now exists.

The affidavit presented to the federal court by the United States attorney says that these 10 men since their conviction 10 months ago of specifications that included preparing to touch off violence against the United States during some future crisis. A crisis now exists.

The affidavit presented to the federal court by the United States attorney says that these 10 men since their conviction "have pursued and will continue to pursue a course of conduct and activity dangerous to the public welfare and national security of the United States." This affidavit was prepared after study of FBI reports on recent conduct of the defendants.

If these allegations can be sustained, it is genuinely dangerous to American security to leave these 10 men at large. American soldiers are now fighting a desperate holding action in Korea against the foreign power which, according to the verdict in their trial, these men serve. According to that verdict, they may reasonably be expected to unleash violence against the United States whenever Russia gives the word.

The case for taking them out of circulation is far stronger than the case against American-born Japanese ever was.

CONSIDER PROBLEMS OF ELDERLY

The special problems confronting men and women of advanced years are the theme of a nation-wide conference that opened in Washington on August 13.

About 11,300,000 Americans now living are 65 or older. They amout to 76 out of every 1,000 persons; 50 years ago, they were only 41 in every 1,000; fifty years from now they may be 150 or even 170 out of 1,000.

The Washington conference meets as Congress is putting the finishing touches on the bill increasing by about 75 per cent, on the average, the federal annuities for workers who have reached 65. But this increase will just about cover the rise in living costs since these annuity payments were provided for in the social security act of 1935.

The higher percentage of elderly in the population these days is due primarily, of course, to advance in medical science. But, paradoxically, while people have been enabled to live longer, their opportunities for gainful work as they get older have been shrinking.

The fast pace in modern industry has turned many an employer against hiring new workers no longer young, on the ground that they cannot keep up. However, plenty of evidence indicates that expert and reliable elderly employes can be more of an asset than younger employes whose skills and reliability leave something to be desired.

Even when men and women become too old to work full-time any longer, two of them on half-time may accomplish at least as much a one full-time younger worker. And the gerontologists—experts on old-age problems to you—have found that the physical and mental health of the elderly is benefitted enormously when they are doing some kind of useful job.

HOW THINGS CHANGE!

A year ago not even the most optimistic Navy adherent would have given the supercarrier "United States" another lease on life. At the time the Navy was back in the farthest corner of its doghouse. Backers of the B-36 and the "single weapon" concept of warfare seemed to have won the day.

Well, this is mid-August, 1950. In Korea GI's are doing what comes naturally and hollering for air support. The Navy is mounting carrier strikes almost as fast as flight crews can ready the planes. Both Army and Navy wish there were more carriers to mount more strikes.

Now comes the news that the Navy's newest appropriation from Congress includes funds for remodernizing, converting, or building a total of 112 ships. Congressman Robeson of Virginia says he wouldn't be surprised to see the giant flattop, over which there was so much squabbling, afloat and in operation within a reasonable period of time. My, how things do change!

Adobe dwellings of the ancient Queblo Indians of New Mexico, archeologists reveal, had walls two feet thick. Now don't tell us that so long ago neighbors played their radios too loud!

Junior, who has been watching the United Nations telecasts as well as his favorite western dramas, wants to know why the Lone Ranger doesn't do something about that new bad guy, Malik.

Washington Calling

(By MARQUIS CHILDS)

Korea And Western Europe

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17. — The Korean peininsula is a long way in space and time from western Europe. London, Paris, Brussels, Rome, the venerable cities of that ancient culture, have little in common with the cities and towns of Korea, most of them primitive and new.

Yet I would imagine that a great many Europeans are reflecting these days on how it feels to be a South Korean—a refugee, if one is lucky, driven out with only a few possessions, knowing that one's home and town and countryside are being reduced to rubble. The refugees know that relatives and friends left behind are being liquidated, or forced at gun point into military service or slave labor.

For South Korea substitute western Europe. For the beachhead around the port of Pusan substitute Spain behind the Pyrenees.

Can Get An Idea

When you do this, you get an idea of how western Europeans are feeling about the action of the senate in offering Franco's Spain a grant of $100,000,000. The ideological differences between western Europe, from Norway to France and from Great Britain to western Germany, are important. Spain is considered Fascist with total controls resembling those of Communist states.

But, perhaps even more important than the ideological division is the fear that American's military planning is based ultimately on retaining bases in Spain behind the Pyrenees, and then preparing the long and painful operation of liberating Europe from Russian occupation, as it was liberated from Nazi occupation. The European says there will be nothing left to liberate—neither free citizens, cultural monuments nor humane values.

Unfortunately in this country the Spanish loan has been championed by many Roman Catholics as though it were an issue between church and anti-church. It does not look like that in western Europe.

Last year the International Confederation of Christian Trade Unions held their conference in Lyon in France. These trade union leaders include the chief supporters of non-Communist governments in Italy and elsewhere, that have used Marshall Plan aid to build back toward security. They welcomed at the conference leaders of the Spanish Basque Trade Unions in exile, all of them Catholics. In his report to the conference General Secretary P. J. S. Serrarens said:

Assert Opposition

"It may be useful to assert once more our opposition to all those dictatorial systems which, in flagrant contradiction to the rights of man, continue to opporess all those who will not accept dictated opinions and refuse to live like marionettes; those systems which imprison or kill, whether it be Cadinal Mindszenty or the Protestant minister of Bulgaria or the trade union leaders of Spain . . .

"The struggle against Communism is only a negative one if it is not at the same time a struggle against the Allies of Communism: Misery and social reaction, and if it is not in the first place an enormous effort to bring about the triumph of social justice."

This was not a conference tinged in even the slightest degree with Marxism or Communism. Through the report of its meetings runs the often repeated theme of Christian mercy and goodness. Cardinal Gerlier was an honored guest.

International Organization

Representatives of trade unions from all over the world met in London last winter. They formed a new non-Communist international oragnization. Joining in a denunciation of Franco Spain were delegates from Catholic unions in Italy and other countries.

American military representatives are said to have argued privately that Spanish aid was necessary to hold bases behind the Pyrenees. In view of the perilous position not alone of western Europe but of the United States itself, their word may have to be the final determinant.

But, it seems to me that before the House agrees to the Senate action this should be publicly expressed, and we should know in some detail how our position will be strengthened. Certainly Franco will be strengthened by an advance of $100,000,000.

At the same time the cost of such a move should be clearly understood in terms of the determination of western Europeans to defend democracy. This gets back to the prime necessity of having people on our side. If people are indifferent, inclined to a doubtful neutrality, then they will not make a very effective use of the weapons which eventually we hope to get to them. Neither guns nor butter are themselves enough. The human spirit asks for more.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

WHAT MAKES FAMILY HAPPINESS

We like to think of the child as joyous most of the time and as often having fun accompanied with smiles and laughter. Yet we don't smile and laugh often enough with our children or cultivate as much as we should a joyous family circle and encourage our children also to do so. We need to relate to one another the funny incidents we have observed or experienced. Best of all, we need to report the funny things we ourselves have done when we had not meant to be funny. Careful we should be, however, not to seek our fun at the expense of the child or anybody else. (My bulletins, "Fears," and "Lonely, Timid Youth" may be had in a stamped envelope sent me at 235 East 45th street, New York, N.Y.)

But many of the happiest periods in the family and the longest ones of such may not bring smiles and laughter at all. Think of all the times when every member of the family circle feels that all is well, feels comfortable and relaxed.

Child Who Creates

Consider all the fun by the child from creating. The youngster three, five or twelve may look very serious while he is extremely happy over something he is creating with crayon, clay, paper or wood, or when he is spinning yarns of make-believe.

Watching the face of each of our own children when at three, four or five he was creating yarns of fancy from his little head, as many other children do, I observed that whereas the young creator sometimes smiled or looked pleasant, he more often wore a serious demeanor. Who will deny that children or adults gain great fun from creative craftmanship, rarely expressed in smiles or laughter?

So also a young child as well as an adult can gain a vast amount of fun from thinking. It can be a very abiding satisfaction, though rarely expressed in smiles or laughter. As I have pointed out in this column before, a matchless means of stimulating the very young child to enjoy useful fun is through setting the stage (sometimes asking the question) which will cause him to use what he already has in his head for arriving at new ideas. Thus the youngster not over three or four can feel himself able to reason far more than he ever supposed he could, more indeed than his parents thought he could.

Novel Features

In a certain periodical popular with very young children there often appear novel features under such titles as "Thinking Can Be Fun," "It Is Fun To Think," or "For Smart Young Reasoners," appealing to children as young as two, as well as much older children, even adults.

But any parent or teacher who understands the young child and the way he develops can devise all sorts of homemade ways of helping him to gain abundant fun for creating and thinking. My bulletin, "Letting Little Children Learn," may also be had in a stamped envelope sent me at 235 East 45th street, New York, N.Y.

One Man's Opinion

By Walter Kiernan

(By International News Service)

Security measures are being tightened around the globe. . . . Perle Mesta has been alerted to watch for loaded canapes and General O'Dwyer is being sent to Mexico to prepare for the defense of New York.

Since one of our fiction magazines pointed out that an atom bomb could be brought into New York by boat you can't rent a canoe in Central Park without a character reference.

I know one fellow claims he had his brief case searched on the ferry from Hoboken and three men in false whiskers soaked his liverwurst sandwich for an hour before sending it to Washington for analysis.

When the report came back it read "good but damp."

But strong measures for the defense of the city are underway. . . . We've started putting in parking meters and when it gets a little cooler we'll have a series of defense luncheons.

Folks Of Fame

King Henry V., of England, was born at Monmouth, England, in August, 1837. In his youth he is said to have been riotous, but in his manhood he was considered chaste, temperate and religious, with a cultured taste for art and music. He succeedeed his father on England's throne in 1413. He solved his domestic troubles in masterly fashion and then turned to bolstering his prestige in Europe. A pretext was found for war with France, which ended in a brilliant victory at Agincourt, where the English bowmen routed the French. He was recognized as heir and regent of France and married the French king's daughter. The headship of Christendom was within his grasp and he planned a crusade. Death, however, cut short his plans. He died at Bois de Vincennes, France, Aug. 3, 1422.

From Me To You

By MESEEALL

It's almost a week now since New Castle was again in the spotlight . . . and our slowness in commenting on this bit of glory doesn't lessen the thrill one bit. . . . In fact to us it means even more because we have had time to listen and to absorb the power of it all. Talking of course about the Perry Gaston Post Band . . . and the honor they won at Philadelphia last Saturday . . . state honors . . . the finest band in the land . . . for us there really is no other land than Pennsylvania land when it comes to bands.

* * *

This American Legion Band of New Castle won't be together much longer . . . for it will soon be school time and that means that many of the members will be interested in subjects . . . those who are not attending school have jobs to take care of . . . but we noticed an item in the paper this week that said the school board was contemplating inviting the Legion Band to play at the first Ne-Ca-Hi football game. . . . Col. Jackson made the motion . . . that seems like a mighty fine idea and we hope the board issues the invitation and that it will be possible for the members of the Legion Band to accept.

* * *

New Castle is fortunate in having some mighty fine musicians . . . we all knew that was true in the past but this Legion Band has again proven that history can and does repeat itself. . . . Let's keep our town progressive and it's wise we think to remember . . . that the town will only be as progressive as the people who make it up. . . . Not one man or one small group of men and women can do it all. . . . Every citizen of this community has an obligation.

* * *

If you are called upon to do a civic job . . . ninety percent of the time you will pitch right in and do your part . . . but why wait to be asked all the time. . . . For example there will be the Community Chest this fall . . . room for everyone to do his or her part . . . don't wait to be asked . . . pitch right in and join the crowd . . . your interest will pay YOU big dividends . . . try it this fall and see if it doesn't make a difference in your future life.

Tourists' Predicament

(By HENRY McLEMORE)

OSLO, Norway, Aug. 18. — If New York money was no good in Boston, and Boston currency wasn't acceptable to Chicagoans, and Chicago money couldn't be spent in St. Louis, then you can imagine the trouble you'd have making a cross-country trip.

Well, that's just the predicament the tourist finds himself in when he is on this side of the Atlantic and hopping from one country to another.

The ambition of every traveller over here is to work it out so that when he leaves a country he steps on the plane, train or boat without a penny of that country's money in his pockets. He knows that the country he is going to will look on the money of the country he has just come from as if it had been made at home, and printed on inferior wrapping paper.

Will Lose On Exchange

Of course, he can go to a bank and get it exchanged, but experience has taught him that he'll lose on the exchange, not to mention the time lost standing in line and filling out all sorts of forms.

The results of all this is some of the finest and fanciest figuring, and some of the balmiest last-minute buying, you ever saw.

A scene I witnessed today in the lobby of the Palace Hotel here is typical. Two Americans in their fifties, whose dress and appearance made them look like chairmen of boards, at least, almost came to blows over whether or not to change a $5 bill into Norwegian kroner.

One of the chairmen vigorously argued that they needed at least three dollars worth of kroner for final tips and a cup of coffee at the airport. The other chairman of the board—and you could hear him halfway across the lobby—said that would leave them with at least two dollars worth of Norwegian money that they couldn't spend in Sweden, and he was all for not doing any more tipping and skipping the coffee at the airport.

Chairman No. 2 must have won, because they shot by the hall porter carrying their own bags.

This sort of thing goes on with all travellers the last day they are in a country. The last day is a lost day insofar as sight-seeing or walking about the town is concerned. It is spent in the hotel room with pencil and paper. If you could put your ear to the keyhole, this is about what you'd heor:

"All right, this is for the hotel bill. I'll put that aside. Now, the only meal we have left to pay for is lunch. That'll run us about two bucks with tip. I'll put that right over here. Now, that leaves us practically nothing, but I'll tell you one thing—we are not going to break another bill or cash another express check. So, one of us'll have to go without lunch."

Those travellers who aren't able to work out their finances to such a fine point—and they are in the majority—descend like locusts at the last minute on the hotel souvenir shops, or tear to neighboring stores, buying almost anything they get their hands on.

Those Peculiar Gifts

If the folks at home get peculiar gifts from returning friends or relatives it is almost certain that these odd presents were bought almost on the run in hotel corridors, railway stations, or air terminals.

When you arrive in a country, and see all the junk displayed in the souvenir shops in airports and stations, you wonder how in the world the owner of the shops have the gall to display such woebegone looking stuff, and where do the fools who'd buy it come from.

You soon find out where the fools come from.

On your way out of the country, in an effort to get rid of your lira, your peso, your franc, your guilder, you almost fight to get to the souvenir counters and the right to purchase a doll whose arms are falling off, an ash tray with a cockeyed cathedral stamped on it, a beaded purse whose beads hate to leave their native land so much they fall off on the floor, or a pair of moccasins four sizes to small or three sizes too large.

We leave for Stockholm tomorrow, and by my figuring, if we don't pay the hotel bill, don't tip, don't eat, and walk to the airport, we can leave this country dead even.

You see, one finally learns by experience how to figure it to perfection.

EMPTY HOUSE

Wooden horse is in the hall,
Lonely as can be.
Now the times I go to call
None to climb my knee.
Little feet no longer race
Round about at play.
Very quiet seems the place.
Terry's gone away!

Toys that used to lie about
Now are in a box.
I can walk the floor without
Stepping on his blocks.
Little bus and truck and car
In the corner stay.
Lonesome, just as I, they are.
Terry's gone away!

Only grown-up talk to hear.
Strange it seems to be.
Just his father sitting near
Gossiping with me.
"Restful to be left alone,"
Did I hear you say?
Dreary 'til a month has flown!
Terry's gone away

Health Talks

By DR. W. A. WOMER

SPEAKING TUBES

Speaking tubes have gone out of style with bustles and side-burns. One kind of speaking tube is still on the job. It is the larynx or Adams-apple or voice box.

It is a pretty important little gadgeet.

Cancer of the larynx is pretty common. Usually the first sign is a little hoarseness or a slight cough. It doesn't get better in a few days but hangs on.

Symptoms like that call for an examination by a throat specialist.

If there is no cancer, no harm is done.

If cancer is found there is a good chance for cure if taken in time.

Comedy Of Motives

(By HOLMES ALEXANDER)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 18.—Practically any Hollywood scenarist these days can whip off a Freudian tragedy or melodrama, but it takes real genius to put over a Freudian comedy—something that the U.S. Senate has accomplished with great art in connection with drafting an anti-Communist bill.

There never was such a strange interlude of hate and love, fear and bravado, hokum, horsefeathers, ambition and ambush as has gone into this production of the upper chamber's theater-in-the-round. Whether the farce should be entitled "Hate that Commie" or "Love that Liberal" depends on which side of the aisle a Senator is sitting.

Has Paid Off In Many Ways

From where Senator Mundt (R., S.D.) sits, Commie-hating has paid off in many ways, not the least of which is the pleasure of seeing Democrats squirm. Mundt, in fact, is one of the few actors of this piece who comes out with his dignity intact. Whatever may be said against the anti-Red legislation which bears his name, there is no doubting Mundt's sincerity or industry. He has been chasing Reds for 12 years now and is the recognized Congressional authority on that sport. Mundt, who likes his political vengeance as well as the next man, now wears a Puckish grin of satisfaction which any good Freudian can interpret as dream-fulfillment. No wonder! Ever since July 26, 1947, when he first introduced the Mundt anti-subversive bill, he's been dreaming of seeing it pass. Before the present session is out, he's likly to see his dream come true—although in an unexpected manner.

Loving Liberals More

But from the seat of Senator Lucas (D., Ill.) it's a question of not hating Commies less but of loving liberals more. As Democratic floor-leader, Lucas has managed to keep the Mundt bill from coming to a vote—a deed which now rises up to mock him. Lucas' predicament is that he desperately needs the reelection support in Illinois of Americans for Democratic Action and the CIO's Political Action Committee. To ADA and PAC, any anti-Red bill with teeth in it is an anti-liberal bill. To make Lucas' lot practically unbearable, he's being swamped with letters, editorials, resolutions by veterans and church groups—all demanding that he bring the Mundt Bill to a vote. Torn between the desire for leftist support and the desire for Main Street support, Lucas is suffering what any Freudan will recognize as an advanced case of indecision.

Mixed Motives Comedy

The comedy of mixed motives becomes complicated by the behavior of several other actors. Early this year Mundt, who isn't a lawyer, accepted the aid of Senator Ferguson (R., Mich.) in revising and up-dating the Mundt Bill. After the bill had gone to the printer with these two names on it, Mundt had an evening phone call from Senator Johnston (D., S.C.) who said:

"Ah want to go along with you fellows on that bill." Mundt goodnaturedly hurried down to the printers and attached Johnston's name to a bill which the latter may never have seen and certainly did not help to write. As events later proved, Johnston needed a good anti-Red record in order to win his primary fight this summer. Anyhow, this must be one of the few instances in political history where a Republican's favor materially assisted a Democrat to hold onto his Senate seat.

Denounces Mundt Bill

Meanwhile President Truman, perceiving Lucas' writhing on his dilemma, sent a message to the Senate, denouncing the Mundt bill by implication and extolling the Bill of Rights. But so hurriedly was this message clapped together by its ghost-writer that one passage proposed that all trained saboteurs be forced to register with the Attorney General. This is equivalent to ordering all burglars to give their names and addresses to the chief of police. It is hardly a cogent suggestion and, as somebody pointed out to the ghost-writer, it's also unconstitutional to force even saboteurs and burglars to testify against themselves.

Things were really in a hilarious snafu when Senator Pat McCarran (D., Nev.) decided to fix everything by a touch of curative plagiarism. He un-stapled a copy of the Mundt Bill and re-stapled it with minor changes under his own authorship, reasoning that a Red-baiting law would be less reprehensible if "written" by a Democrat. "Perhaps one should apologize for in a way (sic!) plagiarizing," said the bulky Nevadan without regard for either the humor or the grammar of his sentence.

But the real humor came forth when the Senate clerk read the title of the McCarran Bill—"A bill to protect the internal security of the United States and for other purposes."

There were plenty of "other purposes" all right. But that's as it had to be. What's a Freudian comedy if it isn't a flock of funny characters who betray hidden, ulterior motives for their antics?

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

This is the story of a Sixteen Dollar sandwich.

Impossible?

Not at all.

But there is one good feature about that sandwich.

It was a sandwich with a moral.

If there is anything my wife hates it is to have me mess around her kitchen.

Never having gotten me to help her with the dishes, she can't see for the life of her what good I would be in the kitchen except to dirty it up.

(Incidentally, here is a tip for husbands: Years ago my wife hinted that a husband SHOULD help with the dishwashing. In the movies and in success stories, husbands always do so. I didn't want to say NO. So I "HELPED."I dropped several cups and plates, thus proving to my spouse that I was absolutely helpLESS. She NEVER asked me to do any dishes again. The thing cost me a dollar or so for replacement of the broken dishes, but it was the best investment I ever made. I do hope that when my time comes to give account of myself to St. Peter, I shall be forgiven.)

But this night I was hungry.

I asked my wife to make me a sandwich.

She was reading a very interesting magazine article and didn't feel like going downstairs.

So she told me that I was gaining weight, and, anyway, eating before going to bed was very bad for me.

I descended into the kitchen and, in the refrigerator, found some delicious corned beef—one of my favorite eatables.

I also found a half loaf of rye bread and some butter.

In anticipation of the delightful snack, I pulled the big bread knife out of the drawer and started to cut off two slices of bread.

One of the two slices was to be the heel of the bread—which I consider the best part of the loaf. (This, in spite of the fact that the wife had told me time and again NOT to cut the heel until the rest of the loaf had been used.)

The knife slipped and hit me right smack in the middle finger of my left hand. Blood all over the kitchen—door, sink, floor, cabinet.

I yelled for help. The wife rushed downstairs with bandages and antiseptic. She got some ice out of the refrigerator. But the bleeding wouldn't stop.

By this time it was eleven o'clock. She called the doctor, who said he would open his office. She drove me down to him at top speed. I was lucky I didn't lose my finger, he said, as he disinfected and bandaged it.

Today I had to go back for a change of bandage and check-up. In three days I have to go back again.

His charge for the night treatment is $10, for the other two treatments $3 each—$16 in all.

When we got back home that night my wife made me a corned beef sandwich. I wasn't very hungry, but I'll be darned if I'll pay sixteen dollars for a sandwich and not eat it.

And the moral of this story? If you are a husband, ask your wife. If you are a wife—you'll know.

Small Planes Prove Useful Over Korea

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18—(INS)—The Navy said that helicopters were "used effectively" in the evacuation of two regiments of the South Korean Third Division, which had been by-passed and isolated by the Red drive on Pohang.

A Navy spokesman told newsmen at the morning Pentagon briefing on the Korean war that the helicopters were used to transport many of the seriously wounded South Koreans from the beach to ships waiting off Korea's east coast.

The regiments and the wounded were placed aboard American troop landing ships as combat vessels and planes protected the amphibious withdrawal from the coastal strip between Pohang and Yongdok.

The Navy announced that its carrier and cruiser forces have conducted a bombing and shelling sweep along the east coast of Korea.

A 200-ton enemy gunboat was destroyed just above the 40th Parallel, about 200 miles South of the Russian border.

Falls To Death From Sixth Floor Of Pittsburgh Hotel

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 18—(INS)—Police reported today that an official of the National Tube Company fell to his death from the sixth floor of a downtown Pittsburgh hotel.

The body of Forrest A. Marsh, 45, assistant to the vice-president in charge of sales of National Tube, was found last night on the third floor roof of the hotel by a guest, Otto C. Bentrup, of Toledo, O.

Police said Marsh had been at the hotel with two friends, Louis Sommers and M. W. Peters, both of Houston, Tex. They told police they left the room to get something to eat and Marsh apparently fell out the window while they were out of the room.

Hammer Enemy Units At Naktong River, To South

coastal sector a battalion of the Communist Sixth Division attacked the U. S. Army's 35th Regimental combat team Friday morning but was "contained."

Fresh Forces

Fresh U. S. Army forces thrown into the battle to save Taegu smashed forward 7,500 yards Friday afternoon north of Tabudong in a counter-offensive waged alongside South Korean units.

The enemy had thrust into the Tabudong sector Thursday to within only ten miles north of Taegu before the Americans arrived at the scene, with heavy Pershing tanks and mobile artillery, to turn the tide. But even as the U. S. troops sparked the dramatic reversal of the enemy's push on Taegu from the north, a new Communist threat arose to the immediate west of the vital stronghold at the northwest corner of the United Nations front.

Red troops made an additional crossing to the Naktong's east bank at a bend where the river loops beyond Songjong eastward to within only six miles west of Taegu. U. S. First Cavalry division forces immediately counter-attacked in an effort to wipe out this dangerous new Red bridgehead.

The latest 8th Army communique, received in Tokyo at 8:40 Friday night (6:40 a. m. EDT), apparently covered a period of the day's fighting earlier than the late afternoon when the Americans and South Koreans advanced north of Taegu.

It said that the South Korean First Division, which had been alone in the Tabudong vicinity until the arrival of the fresh American troops, was under renewed Red attack Friday "but has successfully resisted penetration."

Satisfactory Progress

In the Changnyong-Yongsan bulge area south of Taegu, the field headquarters communique announced, the offensive by the army's 24th Division and the First Marine Brigade "made satisfactory progress all day." The bulletin said three Red tanks were spotted in the enemy "pocket" under attack.

The communique quoted South Korean troop commanders on the east coast as announcing liberation of Pohang and Kigye. Other sectors were described in the 8th Army statement as "quiet."

The battles north, south and west of Taegu raged as several hundred thousand civilians trudged out of the city in compliance with an evacuation order issued after the South Korean government abandoned use of the inland metropolis as its provisional capital.

A front dispatch from the Tabudong sector reported at 8 o'clock Friday night (6 a. m. EDT) that the newly arrived U. S. troops, screened by swarming American planes that struck at the foe, scored their northward 7,500-yard gain in a few hours.

Yanks Drive Ahead

The dispatch said the Americans rammed north from Tabudong, which lies 10 air miles above Taegu, against only light Red resistance and with such lightning rapidity that their commanders feared a possible enemy trap.

The Americans went into action at mid-afternoon Friday alongside units of the South Korean First Division which had counter-attacked at mid-morning and engaged in close combat, including bayonet fighting, with the invaders.

One field dispatch said that in the first few hours of the counter-push, no more than two American casualties were reported—both of them cases of exhaustion and heat. The first American onrush gained 1,500 yards and then another 5,000 yards were picked up before dusk.

Below Changnyong, 23 miles south of Taegu, U. S. Marine and 24th Division army troops renewed their counter-offensive aimed at eliminating the big Red bridgehead east of the Naktong which bulged toward the Taegu-Pusan lifeline supply route.

Some elements of the North Korean fourth division in this blazing sector were pushed back almost into the river in the second day of the combined marine-army offensive.

Red Troops Retreat

One battalion-sized group of Red troops already began retreating to the Naktong's west bank over a Russian type underwater bridge the North Koreans had thrown across the river to build up their Changnyong bulge.

In some places southwest of Changnyong enemy troops were "surrendering voluntarily in large numbers to the hard-driving Americans," International News Service War Correspondent Frank Emery reported in a Friday evening dispatch from Taegu.

Korea's "battle of the bulge" surged furiously westward as the leathernecks and soldiers of the 24th Division — first American ground unit to enter the Korean struggle — stormed ridge after ridge toward the Naktong.

Flattening Bulge

The enemy's Changnyong bulge was being steadily flattened, but Emery said that up until late Friday there was no evidence of a "mass withdrawal" by the North Korean fourth division from the bridgehead.

The Communist reverses north and south of Taegu eased the threat to that city which had a normal populace of 270,000, believed swollen by refugees to some 400,000.

A half dozen enemy shells fell in the Korean inland metropolis during Friday's pre-dawn hours after President Syngman Rhee's South Korean government evacuated the city which it had used as its emergency capital since the fall of Taejon.

The government moved down to the keystone entry port of Pusan, 55 miles southeast of Taegu.

On the east coast, the South Korean recapture of Pohang and Kigye, 8 miles to the northwest, alleviated the Communist threat to an American fighter plane base six miles southeast of Pohang. The U. S. Air Force had abandoned operational use of the air strip, though planes continued to land and take off from the field occassionally.

The U. S. forces rushed north to stop the enemy's advance on Taegu from that direction threw a "tremendous concentration of power" into their counter-assault, INS War Correspondent Frank Conniff reported from that sector. He said the Americans used their 1-ton Pershing tanks to good effect and laid down an "unusually heavy" artillery barrage.

Government Uses Million Yards Of Red Tape Yearly

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—(INS)—They're exhibiting U. S. government red tape at Chicago's first international U. S. trade fair.

Some businessmen even are buying it.

It's real red tape, made for the government by the York Narrow Fabrics Co., to specifications No. DDD-T-101.

Company exhibitors say the government orders more than a million yards a year — to bind legal documents.

Marines Starting To Call Inactive Reservists Back

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 18. — (INS)—Headquarters of the Fourth Marine Corps Reserve District in Philadelphia began yesterday to call up inactive Marine Corps Reservists in Pennsylvania, Delaware, South Jersey and Ohio.

Other Marine Corps Reserve districts throughout the country also are making the call-up in a move to bring the marines up to authorized strength.

Enlisted men of the rank of sergeant and below will be called up first, according ot Maj. J. H. Auchmunty, public relations officer of the fourth district.

All inactive reservists called to active duty will be given 15 days delay in reporting to adjust their affairs. Marine corps women reservists are expected to be called soon, Major Auchmunty said.

He took a $700 roll of money out of his shabby coat, and peeled off three $20 bills to pay the fine.

Phillies May Use Municipal Stadium For World Series

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 18. — (INS)—City council has officially recognized the possibility that the Philadelphia Phillies may bring the city its first National League pennant in 35 years.

Council yesterday authorized Mayor Bernard Samuel to appoint a committee to honor the whiz kids and arrange for the entertainment of visitors in the event of a world series here.

The council resolution further directed that inquiry be made about the possibility of using the huge municipal stadium for world series games.

BOSTON, Aug. 18.—(INS)—The most wonderful trouble happened to Rose Marie Ball of Roxbury.

Senior High Auditorium Scene Of Improvements

Many improvements are under way and for the most part complete at New Castle Senior High school, according to the principal, Clair B. Book.

Alumni would have difficulty remembering just what the old auditorium looked like since the remodeling is almost on its last leg. First big improvement is the paint job which is the second in the last 39 years. The walls of the auditorium have been painted a light green trimmed in an off-white. Paneling around the ceiling and walls is a slightly shade of green and done in watercolors to increase the acoustic power. New wine-colored draw drapes to match the stage curtains have been hung.

Another phase of the remodeling involves the installation of three tiers (256 lights in all) of lights directly above the stage. Also, three spot lights focused on the front of the stage are almost ready for installation. The old switchboard which controlled the auditorium lighting system has been replaced according to state requirements.

Seating capacity for the auditorium has been reduced to 558 in the lower section while the balcony remains the same with 378 seats. Arrangements are under way for the placement of new seats on the newly laid floor.

Mr. Book went on to point out that the old lockers have been altered somewhat to convenience next year's student. Originally they had metal legs which have been sawed off and the lockers have been securely screwed to the wall. He also mentioned that four new drinking fountains, gifts of the 1950 graduating class, have been placed throughout the building.

Free Work Probe In Pittsburgh Decision Delayed

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 18.—(INS)—A decision whether State Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti or Allegheny County District Attorney William S. Rahauser will handle Pittsburgh's "free work" probe may not come until next week.

The state supreme court is sitting in special session in Pittsburgh to decide the matter.

Yesterday the high tribunal gave Rahauser three days to file additional briefs, and Margiotti also was granted permission to file a new one if he considers it necessary.

Romulo Calls Korean War 'World Crisis'

MANILLA, Aug. 18 — (INS) — Gen. Carlos P. Romulo said today that "if aggression wins in South Korea, there will no peace in the world."

The president of the United Nations general assembly said that victory for the invaders of South Korea would mean that "the dream of one world would be shattered forever."

He added:

"It is not merely a Korean crisis it is a world crisis."

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

PLAYING FAIR WITH YOUNGSTERS

It was Saturday afternoon. Several boys of teen age were leaning against the soda fountain counter "griping" about their folks.

"Aw, they don't care what you've planned! My mother says it doesn't make any difference whether there's anything to do or not. You stay home and I'll find something for you. And then she dreams up something that doesn't really need doing at all."

"Yeah," said another. "Just this morning as I was going out after I'd finished all the jobs she'd asked me to do, mother said 'Oh Tommy, I just remembered there's another job I want you to do,' and I had to go back and do it."

A third one complained, "I wouldn't care if I knew ahead of time what was expected. Then, I could plan my time. It's this last minute stuff, I don't like."

Of course, like the rest of us, youngsters seem to enjoy "griping." But in this case shouldn't we ask ourselves whether their "gripes" aren't legitimate?

Most young people are willing to do their share of chores and special jobs around the house, but they do like to know what to count on.

Giving them a part in deciding what needs to be done; keeping in mind that they have friends with whom they need to spend time, and interests they want to follow through will eliminate most of the complaints.

QUICK REFRESHERS FOR HOT DAYS

Warm summer days often tire you out and make you feel your worst. These are the days when you need some simple and quick pick-ups to refresh yourself.

Lie down for five minutes, or longer if you have time, with your feet propped higher than your head. Put pads wrung out of warm water over your eyes and just relax.

Another refresher idea is to rub your body briskly with cologne, then dress in fresh clothes.

Sometimes all you have to do to get rid of nerves and fatigue is rest your feet. One way to do this is to massage your feet well with face cream, then wash off the cream with cold water, and dry briskly. Often a quick change of fresh stockings and shoes will make you feel rested.

If there is the slighest strain or ache in your neck, just grasp the back of your neck firmly between palm and fingers and massage it hard. Do it first with the right hand, then with the left.

If there is no time at all for refreshers, think quickly of someone you love, and smile with your eyes as well as your lips. There is nothing like a real smile to banish strain.

SAFETY TIPS FOR HOME CANNING

One good reason for home canning is to save money, so don't waste it on needless accidents that can be costly in money and suffering. These safety tips are offered:

Make sure your equipment is in good working order.

Use standard glass containers and discard any with flaws or chipped edges.

Keep small children and pets out of kitchen while you are canning.

Raise Funds For State Sabbath School Association

Only about 30 per cent of the support needed for the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association comes from pledges from the counties, and the balance is secured by individual contributions from all over the state.

The State Association appointed Robert M. Strickler, Jr., L. Butler Hennon, and Worrell M. Jones, to secure individual contributions in Lawrence County. So far this committee has been able to renew the contributions of the previous year and to secure new contributions for a like amount. They have received commendation from the General Secretary Rev. Ivan M. Gould, for this good showing.

As an experiment the committee turned over 10 coin banks to Guy M. Fullerton, one of the active leaders of Mt. Jackson district, some time back. Yesterday he returned these banks and they contained $44.05 or an average of $4.40 per bank. These 10 banks had been filled by members of Westfield, Bethel, Mt. Jackson and Bessemer Sunday schools.

Urge Wool Stockpiling

Federal Agencies Push Proposal

WASHINGTON, Aug 18.—(INS)—Two federal agencies are pumping for stockpiling wool if there is any danger that foreign sources—supplying the U.S. with most of the wool it uses—would be cut off during a war.

The agriculture department's production and marketing administration and the bureau of agricultural economics say the nation's military wool needs alone would be as much or more than was used during the last war.

The U.S. military establishment required a wool mill output of about 850 million pounds, grease basis, during the first full war year of 1942. That was the peak wartime year for military wool use.

And during the same year, 1942, wool permitted for civilian needs was cut to 227 million pounds from 667 million in 1941. In times of war, civilian needs would be filled after military demands.

The two federal research agencies say that if another full-scale war breaks out, and domestic production is increased one third, the U.S. would still have to import about 750 million pounds of wool annually.

The agencies say the U.S. can expand the domestic wool industry from the current 27 million head of sheep to 37 million head for an annual wool production of 335 million—but not more.

Feed prices are still on the downward slide.

The production and marketing administration says that feed prices made further sharp declines during the week ended August 15. At the close of the week they nearly reached their prewar relationships with feed grains.

Excellent pasture conditions in most feeding areas and plentiful offerings both of grain by-product needs and oilseed meals were principally responsible for the market weakness.

Gold Star Wives Want In Defense Program

HARRISBURG, Aug. 18—(INS)—Mrs. Ann E. Reinke, national president of Gold Star wives of the second World War, has asked Gov. James H. Duff to include her state organization in Pennsylvania's civil defense program.

Duff instructed Mrs. Reinke to confer with Gen. Richard K. Mellon head of the state defense program. Mrs. Reinke said yesterday steps will be taken to place her organization in state defense setups wherever they are organized.

Around Hollywood

By JAMES PADGITT

(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 18.—(INS)—Twentieth Century-Fox studio is moving in on Cecil B. De Mille's domain to film a Biblical epic.

It will be "David and Bathsheeba" in which Gregory Peck plays the king of Israel and gorgeous Susan Hayward portrays a sultry charmer who leads him astray.

The picture is to be filmed in technicolor either totally or in part in the holy land, in as close to the exact locale as possible as set forth in the first book of David and the second book of Samuel.

First broadside from the studio heralding its big picture for 1951 was an easy tip on crashing the movies with an important role in the picture as a reward.

Seven Feet Tall

Only hitch is the applicant has to be at least seven feet tall and well-proportioned as males go. The towering gent is wanted for the role of "Goliath" in the picture.

The studio has canvassed the local wrestling scene and has found it wanting. Plenty of six footers were found in college sports in southern California, but nobody stretches the tape to the seven-foot mark.

Goliath is described by a Hebrew historian as having a height of four cubits and a span, or 7 feet, 10½ inches. The studio will settle for an even 7 feet.

Peck does not portray the boy David who was 15 at the time he slew Goliath with his slingshot. That part of the picture is told in a flashback after David has settled down with Bathsheeba in ruling Israel.

Writers on the picture claim "David and Bathsheeba" will be Biblically correct and historically accurate, that only certain hazy episodes in the tempestuous romance of the two principals are "filled in".

Peck, as David, sees Bathsheeba taking a bath on a rooftop while he is jogging down a winding street on his white charger. He is so smitten with her beauty he decides he must marry her.

Only thing that stands in his way is Bathsheeba's husband, Uriah the Hittite. Uriah is ordered to the front where he is killed, leaving Peck and Susan free to wed. David's coveteousness spells his doom, however, and his house is forever divided.

The script has already cleared censorship. The studio was afraid the flaming romance would meet many a stumbling block, but because David suffers for his sins the picture was given an official O. K.

The picture will be the studio's first Biblical film. The box office grosses of De Mille's "Samson and Delilah," the biggest money maker since "Gone With The Wind," convinced the bigwigs a religious spectacle was in order.

Senator Taft Seeks Probe

Where Have Funds Been Expended?

CLEVELAND, Aug. 18—(INS)—Sen. Robert A. Taft believes American inability to achieve a speedy victory in Korea calls for an investigation of armed forces expenditures.

Taft, in Cleveland to help launch his party's Ohio election campaign, said last night that 14 billion dollars a year has been appropriated during the last three years.

"And now we wake and find we cannot fight successfully a small nation like the North Koreans," he added.

The Ohio senator said a Congress was needed which would demand that the department of defense present common sense, coherent plan for military development.

He urged the election of a Republican Congress committed to "a strong foreign policy, which would notify Russia clearly . . . that military aggression in certain areas will mean war with the United States."

Taft also recommended a purge of every government employe with communistic sympathies.

Probe Gunning Of Four-Block Area Of Atlantic City

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 18 — (INS) — An investigation was underway today to determine responsibility for the airplane machine gunning of a four-block area of Atlantic City.

One man was injured and others dived for cover as the bullets chipped into pavements and masonry around 6 p.m. yesterday about the intersection of Maryland and Arctic avenues.

Withnesses said that a number of military planes were over the area at the time, but there was no official charge that the aircraft were involved.

Several .50-calibre machine gun bullets were recovered and turned over to police. The lone victim, John Valenti, an Atlantic City fireman, suffered a neck cut. Several others reported narrow escapes from the bullets.

Capt. Bradford E. Crow, Commander of the Pomona Naval Air Station, near Atlantic City, said none of the planes from his base were anywhere in the area at the time.

Calendar makers disregarded the zero year and passed from 1 B. C. to 1 A. D., so there have been only 1949 years since 1 B. C. rather than 1950.

332nd Infantry To Meet In Ohio

New Castle and vicinity will be well represented at the 29th annual reunion of the 332nd Infantry Association, members of which were the only organized unit to see service in Italy in World War One. There will be 35 from the local district who will attend the reunion in the Onesta Hotel, in Canton, Ohio, September 2 and 3.

Expect Dockmen To Refuse Cargo

Union Announces Boycott Of Any Russian Material

NEW YORK, Aug. 18—(INS)—New York longshoremen who have refused to unload Russian crabmeat shipments were expected to follow suit today with a $139,000 cargo of furs from the Soviet Union.

The furs were listed on the manifest of the British Cunard Liner Mauretania which docked yesterday.

The longshoremen refused last Sunday to unload $250,000 worth of Russian crabmeat from the Cunard line's Parthia.

Yesterday they refused to handle another cargo of Soviet crabmeat aboard the United States Lines Freighter American manufacturer.

The furs listed on the manifest of the Mauretania were consigned to two banks in New York. The origin was listed as the USSR.

According to the manifest there were two cases of raw solongoi skins, and 116 bales of persian lamb skins.

The United States Lines has announced it will refuse to handle in the future any goods to or from he Soviet Union.

Stay In Your Car When Storm Comes

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—(INS)—If you're driving in a thunderstorm, it's a pretty safe bet you won't be struck by lightning.

The Agriculture Department is putting out a little booklet outlining what you ought to do in case you're caught in an electric storm.

Motorists, the booklet says, are practically assured of lightning immunity if they stay in the car.

But if you're caught flat-footed without a car to jump into, the booklet says take a quick look around and then duck into a large metal or metal frame building large unprotected buildings, or small unprotected buildings, in that order.

You can get the booklet free from the department—in case you want to carry it with you for ready reference.

Machines have been devised that not only will clean eggs but also sort them as to size.

Restrict U.S. Shipments To 'Red' Countries

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18—(INS)—The Commerce Department today ordered further restrictions on the shipment of strategic materials from the United States to 14 Communist areas including Russia, China and North Korea.

The agency issued a new export control order listing specifically for the first time the areas where the security regulations have been and will continue to be in force.

Previously the countries were only unofficially alluded to as Soviet-bloc nations.

The government also informed exporters that they must obtain a validated export license if they plan to ship "small quantities" of strategic materials to any one of the 14 areas.

The 14 areas listed by the department are: Albania, Bulgaria, China, Czechoslovakia, Estonia, Russian zone of Germany, Hungary, Latvia, Lithuania, Manchuria, North Korea, Poland-Danzig, Rumania and Russia.

Another Communist nation, Yugoslavia, was not included on the list.

Japanese Housewives Demand Lower Prices

TOKYO, Aug.—(INS)—The rising cost of living in Japan as a result of the Korean war was brought to the attention of the Japanese government today by Tokyo's Federation of Housewives' Associations.

A four-member delegation of the federation — an organization with more than 400,000 members—demanded that top government officials do something immediately to lower food prices.

The women asked for control of speculative buying, control on hoarding, and larger imports of vital commodities to bring prices down.

Swift And Company Employes Get Raise

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—(INS)—AFL-Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher workmen have signed a two-year contract in Chicago with Swift and Co., providing an 11-cent hourly wage increase for 5,000 employes in 12 plants across the nation.

Union president Earl W. Jimerson said the new pact—like the pattern agreement negotiated last week with Armour & Co—provides for three wage reopenings, and runs to August 11, 1952.

New Recruits Inducted Into 229th Artillery of the 229th who administered the oath of allegiance.

Following the induction ceremony a short speaking program was held. First a number of introductions were made. City Councilman Joseph Medure was presented as was County Commissioner Joseph F. Travers, Legion Commander Earl Moffatt and Senior Vice Commander Manning Weller.

Support Units

Harvey B. Bush, chairman of the Board of County Commissioners spoke briefly. He said the commissioners in past years had supported the guard units here, both morally and financially and that the present board had every intention of continuing to do so. He wished the battalion luck as it prepared to return to active service and hoped for a speedy return.

Louis B. Round, president of the Pennsylvania Power Company was the next speaker. Mr. Round was largely instrumental in having the armory built in New Castle and for years headed the Sponsor Committee for the units and the Armory Advisory Board. He recalled the valor of the 28th division in war, lauded the character of the guard units here and predicted the same high standard of service for the present units.

Wachtman Speaks

Jacob C. Wachtman, executive vice president of the Greater New Castle Association was the principle speaker. Himself a veteran of World War Two and a lieutenant-colonel in the reserve, Mr. Wachtman spoke as one soldier to another.

Said he "This assembly marks a historic moment. It is a solemn hour. And yet as a nation we turn our faces toward the job we have undertaken and not one of us would suggest that our country ought to deviate.

"If ever a nation was embarking upon a holy war, I sincerely believe this is the hour. I believe we are committed to a line of action that will end only when we have climbed the last hill, stilled the last gun, put down the last godless foe and planted the white banner of our great and gracious God beside the banner of the United Nations.

"The chips are down. New Castle is sending forth her citizens in a holy crusade. We are giving Communism our answer".

Display Work

Lieutenant George F. Mitchell, Jr., then explained the various exhibits in the armory and at the conclusion of the program men of the battalion demonstrated the use of fire detection equipment, answered questions and gave a lot of civilians a slight insight into the intricacies of modern war equipment.

During the program the American Legion band played several numbers and at the close of the program entertained with a concert, under the direction of Joseph Martin. After hearing the band Thursday night it is not difficult to see why this band was named state champions at the Philadelphia convention a week ago.

Parade Precedes

Preceding the induction ceremony a parade moved out from the Legion Home at Falls and Jefferson streets. A city police car rode ahead of the line of march, then came Lt. Col. George F. Mitchell and his staff, the American Legion band, a delegation of Legionnaires headed by Commander Earl Moffatt and the 229th battalion. Bringing up in the rear was the motor equipment of the battalion, jeeps and trucks.

It was significant night. It brought the present Korean war home to New Castle for the battalion has been alerted along with the balance of the 28th division for active service.

The recruiting campaign continues daily to enlist 100 men for the battalion.

Probe Vermont Mystery Shooting

RUTLAND, Vt., Aug. 18.—(INS) —Vermont state police investigated today the mysterious shooting of a Philadelphia man whose companion vanished after bringing him to a Rutland hospital.

The probe was launched after hospital authorities notified police that the man, identified as James Hart, 24, was admitted for treatment of a .22 calibre bullet wound in the left leg.

Hospital officials notified police that Hart was brought in for treatment by a man who gave his name as Herman Sundheim, also of Philadelphia, but that Sundheim vanished without disclosing circumstances of the wounding. He told hospital officials the wound was inflicted at a camp on the Long Trail outside Rutland.

Physicians said Hart was in good condition.

Philandering Is Charged To Cugat By Wife In Suit

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 18.—(INS)—Rhumba King Xavier Cugat was pictured as a philandering Latin lover in a document on file in the Hollywood superior court today.

Actress Lorraine Allen Cugat, who is suing "Cugie" for $3,500 a month separate maintenance, filed an amended complaint at the bandleader in which she named six women as co-respondents.

No. 1 on her list was 18-year-old Abbe Lane, the vocalist whom Cugat plans to marry next, as soon as he is free.

Also named were singers Betty George and June Bell and three "Jane Does."

Mrs. Cugat charged that from July 15 to Aug. 15, last year Cugat alternated between Miss George and Miss Bell in committing indiscretions in various New York hotels.

She alleged further that since that time he has been intimate with Miss Lane in "hotels, apartment houses and night clubs in New York."

Chapter Night For Women Of Moose

Members of the Women of the Moose, Chapter 8, observed Mooseheart Alumni Chapter night Wednesday evening at the Moose home. In charge of the evening was Mrs. Ethel Cumberledge and her committee, composed of Mrs. Alice Hawk, Mrs. Evelyn Harper, Mrs. Blanche Dunlap, Mrs. Josephine Pinkerton, Mrs. Emma Vogan and Mrs. Eleanor Gibson. The latter also won the evening's door prize.

Four new members were initiated under the leadership of Senior Regent Mrs. Huldah Doerr. After the initiation, plans were made for the auxiliary picnic, to be held at El-Rio Beach on Thursday, August 31, with husbands and families to be guests. The outing will commence in the afternoon and dinner will be served, tureen style, at 6 p. m. On the committee will be Mrs. Alice Clark and Mrs. Mary Perry as general chairmen, with committee aides to be Mrs. Huldah Doerr, Mrs. Mildred Cartwright, Mrs. Fae Pitzer and Mrs. Clara Jameson.

A birthday gift of money was sent to Elmer Ball, a resident of Mooseheart, whose birthday falls on August 23.

It was announced that those who are attending the Moose convention in Chicago, Ill., Sunday, August 20, through Thursday, August 24 will leave New Castle on Friday.

The local chapter of the Women of the Moose has received three special honors from the national office at Mooseheart which include the special award of the honor roll, and recognition on the grand regent's honor roll and grand recorder's honor roll. This distinguishes the local group as a leading auxiliary.

It was voted that the dues of Mrs. Darlene Schweinsberg, a member who is leaving to serve with the Women's Army Corps, will be paid by the group.

At the close of the evening, refreshments were served by the committee.

House Leaders Predict No UMT Bill This Fall

Agree That Congress Will Adjourn Before Taking Subject Up

By DARRELL GARWOOD
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Democratic leaders in the House predicted that no action will be taken on universal military training this year unless Congress remains in session well into the autumn.

The prediction came on the heels of a strong bipartisan demand for action on UMT at this session and after introduction of the administration's compulsory training bill by Sen. Tydings (D) Md.

A key administration spokesman in the House said he does not believe the Korean war emergency will keep Congress in session long enough for enactment of the UMT bill sought by Defense Secretary Johnson with President Truman's approval.

Will Wait On Senate

Chairman Vinson (D) Ga., of the House Armed Services committee said before leaving for his Milledgeville home that his unit will wait for the Senate to act.

The House expects to wind up its "must" legislation this month, then stand by for the Senate to complete work on emergency measures. Mr. Truman has stated that he does not place the UMT bill in the emergency class.

Sen Bridges (R) N. H., ranking GOP members of the Senate Armed Services committee, called for action this session on universal training and said he has asked Tydings to hold hearings on the administration bill, which would affect youths 17 to 20 years of age.

Man Wants To Stay After Twenty Years Of State Prisons

Philadelphia, Aug. 18—(INS)—Seventy years old and weary, he stood before Judge Joseph Sloane yesterday and pleaded:

"I want to go to prison. I think it would be the best thing for me. I am happier in prison."

Judge Sloane stared at Willie Johnson, a man with almost 20 years in prison, charged now with burglary.

"I am an old man without a home," Johnson said. "I have never had a home except prison. I'd like to go to the Eastern State Penitentiary."

"It is the sentence of the court," said the judge, "that the defendant be committed to the Eastern State Penitentiary for a period of not less than two and no more than 10 years."

"Thank you, your honor," replied Johnson.

A GOOD CREW CHIEF should check up on everything, is the opinion of S/Sgt. Nolie J. 'Axis Sally' Sent To New Prison

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18—(INS)—The "faraway look" in Axis Sally's eyes landed her behind bars today.

Axis Sally, known prosaically and legally as Mildred Gillars, was sent to the District of Columbia's unfenced Lorton Reformatory when convicted of broadcasting Nazi propaganda during the war.

She might have served her 10 to 30 year sentence in the (compartively) pleasant atmosphere of Lorton if she had avoided the "faraway look." But Donald Clemmer, district director of prisons, said the look was a little too usual with Sally when she approached Lorton's unfenced boundaries.

At Alderson (W. Va.), Federal prison, to which she was transferred, she will have not only fences, but walls and bars to make the look futile.

P. & L. E. Strike To Idle Many Local Trains

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 18.—(INS)—Pittsburgh district mills today faced a tieup of supplies because of a threated rail strike against the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad.

The strike has been called for Tuesday at 6 a. m. by the Brotherhoods of Trainsmen and Conductors. The P. & L. E., an affiliate of the New York Central System, is a major carrier of coal and iron ore.

Spokesmen for the railroad brotherhoods said in Washington that their unions would go on calling strikes every few days in order to force the carriers to negotiate a settlement.

The unions also have called strikes against Cleveland, St. Louis and Louisville freight yards for Monday.

They added the P. & L. E., and the Elgin, Joilet and Eastern lines to the strike list yesterday.

The unions are seeking a settlement of a wage and hour dispute.

The Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad designated today by leaders of the Trainmen's and Conductors unions as still another strike target is one of the nation's leading coal and ore carriers.

Although relatively short in mileage—operating 220 miles of road—the key New York Central affiliate carries annually between 10,000,000 and 15,000,000 tons of bituminous coal and coke, more than 5,000,000 tons of iron ore, and more than 5,000,000 tons of other mine products. These defense-vital categories alone account for approximately 70 percent of its freight traffic.

Approximately 7,500 Employes

The P. & L. E. which has approximately 7,500 employes operates between Brownsville and Connellsville, Pa., through Pittsburgh, and on to Youngstown, O., where many of its trains move north to Ashtabula, O., on Lake Erie, where the Central has extensive coal and ore handling facilities.

The P. & L. E. owns approximately 25,000 freight cars, the great majority of which are in service hauling materials for steel-making or other phases of the emergency defense effort. Approximately 97 percent of its total operating revenue comes from its freight traffic.

Idle Many Trains

A strike would still the 35 to 45 freight trains which are operated daily over the railroads busy tracks. Most of these are P. & L. E. trains, but the Baltimore & Ohio, which operates a number of freight trains over the P & L E tracks, also would be affected. The P. & L. E.'s traffic has been heavy, last week, for example, the railroad handled 15,130 loaded freight cars, representing a 45.6 percent increase over the same week of 1949.

In addition to affecting this traffic, a strike would halt the 24 daily passenger trains operated by the P. & L. E., and would affect the Baltimore & Ohio which utilizes the P. & L. E. tracks for 16 daily passenger trains.

The Pittsburgh & Lake Erie is one of five railroads thus far selected for the five-day strikes by the two unions, whose leaders have refused to accept the recommendations of a Presidential Emergency Board. The threatened walkout of the P. & L. E. was ordered to be effective at 6 a. m. local time, next Tuesday.

Turkey's Offer Of 4,500 Ground Troops Formally Accepted

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18—(INS)—The United States formally accepted today Turkey's offer of 4,500 ground troops for the fighting in Korea.

The acceptance was announced by State Department spokesman Michael McDermott who said details for the employment of the badly needed forces is being worked out in Ankara.

Earlier the Defense Department had announced the acceptance of 4,000 troops from Thailand and 5,000 from the Philippines.

The United Kingdom, Australia and New Zealand have also promised ground force assistance.

The Turkish forces are highly regarded and it is believed they can be put into action quickly.

Dulles Will Not Run For Senate

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—(INS)—John Foster Dulles said after a conference with President Truman that he will not run again for the Senate in New York in this year's election.

Dulles announced at the White House that, instead, he will remain on President Truman's bipartisan foreign policy team and go to the United Nations general assembly as a U. S. delegate.

One Man Killed, Another Injured In Plane Crash

CARLISLE, Pa. Aug. 18.—(INS)—One man was killed Thursday and another critically injured when a single engine private airplane from Baltimore to Buffalo crashed and burned nine miles west of Carlisle. State police said the dead man was Jacob Robinson, of College Park, Md.

Taken to Carlisle General hospital suffering severe burns and shock was Donald Covington, of Towson, Md., believed by police to have been the pilot.

The low-flying plane struck the side of a mountain near Wagner's Gap according to police. An attendant in a television relay station summoned aid.

Brookville Girl Is Back Home With Her Foster Mother

BROOKVILLE, Pa., Aug. 18.—(INS)—Little Shirley Ann Bednarik was back home with her foster mother in Brookville today, this time to stay by order of a court.

Mrs. Josephine Litch Martz, daughter of the late millionaire Thomas K. Litch, was given custody of the two-and-a-half year old child by Judge Henry P. Beckenback of the domestic relations court in Youngstown, O.

The dispute between Mrs. Martz and Shirley's real mother, Mrs. Althea Bednarik, 19, of Campbell, O., gained attention when Mrs. Bednarik and her husband, Andrew, 25, were accused of taking the child from the Martz home last May 20.

Mrs. Martz told authorities that Mrs. Bednarik turned the child over to her 11 months previously, asking her to adopt the girl.

The parents were arrested in Campbell after they returned there with the child, and later were released. Mrs. Bednarik contended at the time that Shirley was left in Mrs. Martz' care only while her husband was ill.

The dispute was settled yesterday when Mrs. Bednarik told Judge Beckenback that her husband had left her and she agreed to sign the adoption papers giving Mrs. Martz full custody of the child.

The papers were signed by Mrs. Bednarik after the hearing.

Plan Action On Control Of Fifth Column

By GLENN M. GREEN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—(INS)—Senate Democratic leaders stand committed today to action on anti-subversive legislation at this session of congress.

Acting Majority Leader Myers (D) Va., said that Democratic senators will be promised at a scheduled party conference Monday that internal security legislation will be called up, probably after action on the tax bill.

The leadership confidently expects this move to close Democratic ranks against the anti-subversives amendment to the economic controls bill which has been offered by Sens. Mundt (R) S. D., and Ferguson (D) Mich.

Senate Votes Monday

The senate votes Monday on that rider.

The amendment, which actually is their anti-subversives bill, would, among other things, set up a subversive activities board and require the registration of Communists.

Myers said:

"I'm pretty sure we have the votes to beat the rider".

Senate Banking Chairman Maybank (D) S. C., who is guiding the economic controls bill on the floor, said he was "sure" that the amendment will be defeated.

But Mundt disputed this claim. He said he and Ferguson have made a check and added:

"We Have The Votes"

"We have the votes. I think the other side has miscalculated". Senate attention is now focussed on three major pieces of fifth column control legislation before it:

1. The Mundt-Ferguson bill.
2. The bill by judiciary Chairman McCarran (D) Nev., which incorporates the Mundt-Ferguson bill but also includes several other internal security measures.

The judiciary committee yesterday approved this measure, 9 to 3, in a setback for the administration.

3. An administration omnibus bill which reaffirms congress' support for such existing internal security legislation as the Smith act and which strengthens other statues on the books.

The Smith act, under which the 11 Communist leaders were convicted in New York, allows the prosecution of persons actively advocating Communist doctrine.

Prime Minister Of Australia On Return From Japan

TOKYO, Aug. 18—(INS)—Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies of Australia took off from Tokyo aboard a Pan American plane for Honolulu, en route to Australia.

Menzies said:

"I am much better informed on this part of the world."

He said he had had "valuable discussions" including long talks with Gen. Douglas MacArthur and Lt. Gen. H. C. H. Robertson, commander of British occupation forces in Japan.

Menzies said he would place this information before the cabinet to formulate Australian policy with regard to Korea, a Japanese peace treaty and other Pacific issues.

The prime minister said he was "delighted to find from all sources, from Gen. MacArthur down, how greatly admired are Australian servicemen in Japan."

MacArthur waited at Haneda airport for one hour in a hot sun to bid Menzies farewell.

Wheat Kernels Fly High In Air Over New York Building

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—(INS)—Steelworkers high atop the Empire State building some 1,300 feet in the air were peppered by mysterious tiny missiles for several minutes this morning.

The tiny pellets proved to be wheat kernels.

A spokesman for the building said "I've got a little mound of the kernels, but don't ask me where they came from or why they were flying through the air over New York!"

Carnival Ticket Taker Is Killed

GALLITZIN, Pa., Aug. 18—(INS)—Rudolph J. Gelormino, 27, of Patton, Pa., a carnival ticket taker, was killed today when he was struck by a Pennsylvania Railroad train near the Gallitzin tunnel.

There were no witnesses. The body was discovered by a train crew.

Richard Wilkinson, Cambria county deputy coroner, said Gelormino had been employed with the carnival for four months. It is now showing in Gallitzin.

Ambassador To Poland Is Named

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18—(INS)—President Truman today nominated U.S. Ambassador Joseph Flack of Costa Rica to be U.S. ambassador to Communist-dominated Poland.

Flack will relieve Ambassador John W. Gallman, who is returning to Washington to become deputy for Foreign Affairs at the National War College.

Argentine Consul Faces Accusations Made By His Wife

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 18.—(INS)—The wife of Argentine consul Saul Luis Pagliere accused him of beating her and locking her and their two children out of their home today.

Pagliere vigorously denied the charges of Mrs. Maria Pagliere and said that "for the past two months she has been ill."

Pagliere said he knew "nothing whatsoever about the charges, but I am going to the police station later today to find out what it's all about."

Police reported they were called to a residence near the Pagliere home in the Ambassador hotel district about 1 a.m. Officers R. W Babcock and L. W. Zenkevitch responded.

There they found Mrs. Pagliere and her two small daughters.

Babcock and Zenkevitch said Mrs. Pagliere told them her husband had struck her "six or seven times" and forced her and the children out of the house. They quoted the woman as saying her husband declared:

"Get back to Argentina in any way that you can."

The officers reported they went to the consul's home but that he refused to open the door. They said he claimed he was responsible only to the Argentine ambassador in Washington.

Later, Pagliere told newsmen: "It's all a big joke."

Coast Guard headquarters in New York said the vessel, the Russel R. Jones, is about 120 miles from the center of the hurricane. The ship earlier traveled through the hurricane and its radio antenna was broken by the winds.

Set Special Days For Registering

Name Six Days Before September 16

Six special days for the registration of Lawrence county voters have been set by the County Commissioners.

On the days named registrars will sit at the hours designated for the purpose of registering those citizens who have not qualified to vote on November 7.

Voters who cast ballots in any election in the two years last past or who have not moved from the precinct need not register. Only those who have not voted in two years last past or who have moved into another precinct are required to register now.

August 24 and 25 registrars will sit in Ellwood City between the hours of 10 a. m. and three p. m. and seven p. m. to 10 p. m.

August 28, Bessemer boro building, from one to four and seven to 10.

August 29, fire department, seventh ward, from one to four and seven to 10.

August 30, office of Alderman Sam Bassano, fifth ward, for voters in the fifth and eighth. From one to four and seven to 10.

August 31, school building, Hillsville, from one to four and seven to 10.

WEEK'S TOTAL

For the week ending August 12, 28 voters registered in the court house. Of these, 21 were Republicans, six were Democrats and one no party.

HE WASN'T THERE

Wednesday night during the terrific storm that swept the eastern and southern part of the county, County Controller Andrew Dodds was the "little man who wasn't there"—fortunately.

During his absence from his cottage on the Slippery Rock two trees crashed down over the roof of a small building used for eating and pushed the roof down onto the dining table. Had Andy been eating there would be a vacancy in the court house today.

INSPECTS JAIL

H. J. Skillen, a prison inspector for the state, visited the county jail Wednesday and found little to criticize. He suggested a change in the lighting system, but otherwise seemed to find the Hotel Coen in good shape.

CHANGE IN DEPUTIES

The County Commissioners, County Controller and Sheriff, sitting as a salary board, Thursday made some changes in the personnel set-up of the sheriff's office.

Deputy Harold Lathsaw is brought in from the jail office and made a deputy in the sheriffs' office, replacing Miss Blanche Davy, who is entering church work.

Theodore Altman is made a deputy and becomes the warden on the five p. m. to 12 p. m. shift. Howard Hanna is made a deputy, replacing the late Francis McCracken and becomes jail warden on the midnight to eight a. m. shift.

Babson Discusses 'Scare Buying' And Hoarding

BABSON PARK, Mass., Aug. 18.—The day-to-day news from the fighting front in Korea does not always give us a very clear picture of what is happening there. But recent price rises in farm products, foods and non-durable raw materials leave little doubt as to what is happening here, where heavy "scare buying" seems to be the order of the day.

Roger W. Babson

Hoarding is Foolish

I suspect that much of this so-called "scare buying", which is just plain hoarding, is being done by businessmen who believe they are using foresight in piling up huge reserves of items scarce during World War II. Such heavy buying has already resulted in price advances some of which might not have otherwise occurred. It has also started a wave of consumer hoarding which, if it becomes too bad, will certainly hasten price controls and rationing. Such hording is foolish and, at the same time dangerous because it breeds inflation. This does not mean we should not always—war or no war—keep supplies on hand.

Few Real Shortages

We have learned a lot as a result of World War II and I hope we have learned that one of the most terrible things that could happen to us, in or out of wartime, is wild inflation. Fortunately, few civilian items are really in short supply today. Actually we have surplus supplies of many items. However, the quickest way to change all that and to invite disaster is to permit ourselves to be carried away by foolish fears. Besides being unpatriotic and antisocial, the goods which were in shortest supply during and after World War II may not become scarce as a result of the present conflict.

Holders of unreasonably overlarge stocks of those items which do become critically short will almost certainly have to give up the surpluses they went to such lengths to obtain. Also note this: Here at Babson Park, our economists are continually studying the supply and demand ratios in nearly 100 basic commodities, including the principal foodstuffs and farm products. Each month we issue price forecasts and clear-cut buying advice for each of these commodities. Thus, I am always in close touch with developments in the important commodity markets. It is my opinion, base on this carefully gathered information, that most commodities are now in good current supply. Perhaps our greatest weakness lies in metals, because we are so dependent on foreign sources for the huge amounts we need to keep our great industrial machine rolling in high gear. Certainly, foods are plentiful generally.

Cocoa And Coffee

Much of the "scare buying" of foods has centered on cocoa and coffee, and with some excuse. Both are now in tight supply, but there should be no immediate stringency in either if abnormally heavy buying it cut down at once. Cocoa beans now in the U. S. may not suffice for all needs between now and next fall when new supplies will arrive from Brazil's midterm crop. The consumption of cocoa and cocoa products in this country has risen sharply in recent years and is now very heavy. A moderate, voluntary cutback would not entail any great hardship.

The coffee situation is this: Owing to past neglect of the coffee plantations in South America, supplies are not much in excess of growing world consumption. Total U. S. stocks on hand and afloat do not compare very favorably with last year, and we must admit that 1949 was not an especially good year. Yet high prices could curb U. S. consumption to such an extent that current and anticipated supplies might suffice. But here again, the situation does not justify further hoarding.

No Need For Sugar Panic

Sugar was in surplus supply on June 25 when the trouble began in Korea. It still is in surplus supply despite the buying rush of the past few weeks. Cuban and Puerto Rican output is running above 1949 levels, while both beet and cane production here in continental U. S. exceeds year-ago totals by a substantial margin. Only destruction of shipping can cause a shortage of sugar. Hoarding, whether by wholesalers, retailers or consumers could create a temporary shortage. If this should push prices too high, it could result in sugar price controls and, perhaps, rationing; but not so long as the war is confined to Korea.

STILL CHAMPIONS

Wall firemen, last year's winners, defeated North Braddock hosemen who won by default over Uniontown.

SHOULD MAID-OF-HONOR GIVE BRIDE SHOWER

"My best friend is getting married and I am to be maid-of-honor. I should like to give her a shower if it is proper. Please give me some instruction as to how to go about it."

Answer: The maid-of-honor should, if possible, give a shower for the bride. Preferably, send invitations by mail — written on your visiting or hostess card or on the small printed shower cards sold in stationery stores.

Remember that a shower is not a party in the usual sense but in reality an invitation to "come and bring a gift," so consequently, only close friends of the bride should be invited. This is so, even if the shower hostess has never met them. It should likewise be remembered that the hostess should not invite her own friends who do not know the bride-to-be. This is because it would be an imposition to ask them to bring gifts to someone they do not know.

Your shower may be in the afternoon or in the evening. If it is given in the afternoon, it might be followed by a tea. If it is given in the evening, it may be followed by a buffet supper.

Question: Please tell me what are the obligations of the girl who is taking a boy to her first prom at an all-girls high school? Is it proper for the girl to pay for the tickets? Who pays for the taxi and any entertainment after the prom. I have been told that the girl's father gives the boy the money for the entire evening.

Answer: When a girl invites a boy to her school prom, she should supply and pay for the tickets. All other expenses—taxi, if they go an return in a taxi, flowers for the girl, refreshments after the dance should be assumed by the boy.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly mail personal replies to questions from readers enclosing stamped, self-addressed envelopes.

North Carolina Given Alert On Hurricane

MIAMI, Aug. 18.—(INS)—A hurricane which snarled at the Bahama Islands and the Florida "Gold Coast" before turning out to sea swept in a north-northwesterly direction today, and the North Carolina cape section was put on the alert in the face of 140-mile-an-hour winds.

The Miami weather bureau reported at 10:30 a. m. (EST) that the tempest, which was moving forward slowly 350 miles northeast of Melborne, Fla., "should pass east of Cape Hatteras late Saturday or Sunday night".

The first tropical disturbance of the year, which had moved so close to the Bahamas that hurricane warnings were hoisted there Thursday morning, curved northward this morning.

The weather bureau said the hurricane center was "very accuratively" located by aircraft at Latitude 28.2 North and Longitude 75.1 West. The advisory said indications are for a rather slow eight-to-twelve-mile-an-hour movement in a broad curve northward today and tonight.

Caution was urged for vessels in the path of the turbulent winds, which are churning the South Atlantic shipping lanes.

Florida, which had begun to take precautions, breathed easily for the first time since an area of suspicion was spotted in the Caribbean just a week ago.

The navy had evacuated ships and planes from its Key West base and small ocean craft had moved inland for protected anchorages.

In Miami, Red Cross volunteers and staff members had rushed food and medical supplies to storm shelters. Summer tourists and storm veterans alike ran for their hurricane lamps and candles.

More Of State Guard Alerted For U.S. Service

HARRISBURG, Aug. 18.—(INS)—Gov. James H. Duff today announced Headquarters and Headquarters Company, 68th Engineer Combat group, Philadelphia, of the Pennsylvania National Guard has been alerted for induction into federal service.

Duff said the unit will be inducted September 15 and sent to Camp Polk, La., for further training. The unit, commanded by Lt. Col. Herbert P. Meitner, is stationed at the Agontz and Somerville armory in Philadelphia.

Gold Star Mothers Have Annual Picnic

Members of the American Gold Star Mothers Inc., Lawrence County Chapter No. 1, gathered for their annual picnic, on Wednesday, August 16, at Cascade Park.

A splendid dinner was served at noon, in the grove, to members and families. The invocation was given by Mrs. Nellie Farrell, chaplain. The officers were in charge of the dinner, with Mrs. Mary Kennedy, president, at the head.

After dinner, the group went to the dance pavillion, and enjoyed "Old Timers Day."

Next meeting September 20, at American Legion Home.

Plenty In Name Says Railroad Spokesman

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 18.—(INS)—What's in a name?

A Pennsylvania railroad spokesman pointed to the carrier's dining car menu today to prove Shakespeare wrong.

"We recently tried out chicken fried in a special way," he explained, "and offered it as Pennsylvania Dutch fried chicken.

"There were few takers.

"Then the name was changed to fried chicken, Kentucky style, and the dish became a best seller overnight. It is now one of our most popular items."

U.S. PROGRAM FOR KOREA PEACE IS GIVEN TO U.N.

—particularly from the standpoint of the Asiatic peoples—by spelling out American peace aims.

These aims were stated by chief U. S. delegate Warren Austin yesterday as based on a unified and independent Korea from which the "half free and half slave" 38th parallel dividing line is eliminated.

Complete Freedom

Austin emphasized to the council that the U. N. must see to it that the Korean people attain complete individual and political freedom. He pulled no punches in demanding the Soviet Union join the collective peace effort by ordering the North Korean communists to end the aggression.

Soviet delegate Jacob Malik retorted before adjourning the council until Tuesday afternoon that Austin is striving to sabotage the Russian peace efforts and that American soldiers are dying in Korea without knowing what they are fighting for.

However, the consensus among delegates today is that Russia has lost an important round in the propaganda battle as far as Asiatic countries are concerned.

A hint to that effect is evident in the reported decision of Sir Benegal Rau, who had instructions from Nehru to push the plan for the Security Council "little six" to draft a Korean peace formula, to drop the scheme.

Marking Time

One reason for the long adjournment is that the western delegates, faced with a Russian council chairman until the end of August, have banded together to make the best of a bad situation and in actually marking time. Malik as chairman is helpless in convoking meetings against the consent of the majority.

On Monday Malik will meet the Council again for a private session other 10 members of the Security at Lake Success. Yesterday afternoon, in an 80-minute confab which preceded the public session, Malik offered by implication to drop his three-week filibuster if the others consented to seating both the North and South Korean representatives at the council table.

Although none of the 10 gave a direct answer, all but Yugoslavia are certain to have a negative reply for Malik on seating the North Korean next Monday.

Leave To Confer With Gen. MacArthur

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18—(INS)—Gen. J. Lawton Collins and Adm. Forrest P. Sherman announced today they will leave by air tomorrow to confer with Gen. MacArthur in Tokyo.

Sherman, Chief of Naval Operations, will be making his first trip to the Far East since the start of the Korean war.

Collins, Army Chief of Staff, visited Tokyo July 10-15 with Gen. Hoyt F. Vandenberg, Air Force Chief.

Collins and Sherman said the new trip is for the purpose of "visiting the field" and "determining needs."

They were uncertain, however, whether they would visit forces in Korea or merely confer in Tokyo.

Extra large, extra small and misshapen eggs should not be set for hatching.

House Plans For Vacation

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—(INS)—An impatient house went ahead today with plans for a separate vacation in the event the slower-moving Senate is unable to complete its work in time.

House leaders greeted with private skepticism the announcement of Democratic and GOP Senate chieftains that the Senate hoped to wind up its agenda Sept. 2 and go home.

They laid their own plans for a vacation to begin Aug. 26 and continue until Sept. 11. The House would then remain in session until Oct. 1, when it would again recess or adjourn until after the November elections or January.

A heavy schedule has been set for next week. If completed, and it probably will be, then the House will quit Friday afternoon for a 16-day vacation regardless of what the Senate does.

Unemployment Claims Falling Off In State

HARRISBURG, Aug. 18.—(INS)—Unemployment compensation claims continued their downward trend last week in Pennsylvania, the State Bureau of Employment and Unemployment Compensation reported today.

A statewide total of 90,826 claims for the week ended August 10 reflected an eight per cent decline from the previous week, the bureau announced, and a reduction of 60 per cent from a comparable week in 1949.

The bureau credited the decline to a general improvement in business conditions and return of workers in the textile, apparel, coal mining and transportation-equipment industries.

Many Indians on the 16-million-acre Navajo reservation in New Mexico and Arizona still resort to ancient ceremonies to cure illness.

The nearly-extinct Nunatagmiut Eskimos of Alaska seldom were able to store up a good winter food supply.

Try And Stop Me

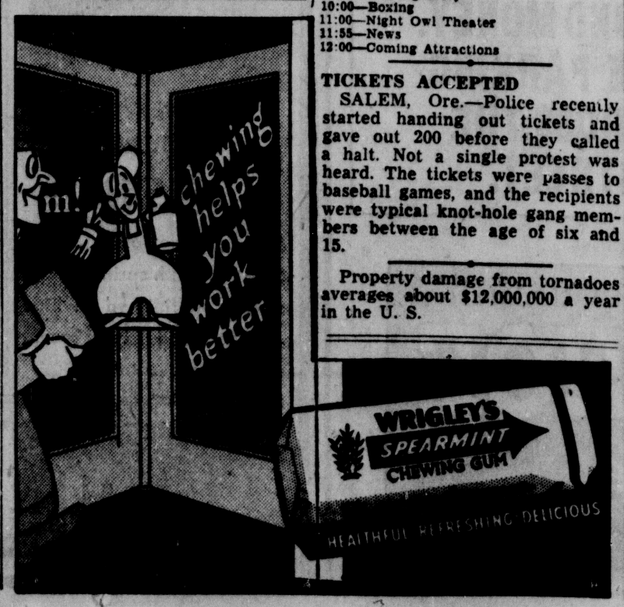

By BENNETT CERF

When Stanton Griffis, now our ambassador to Argentina, became a trustee of Cornell university in 1930, one of his first achievements was to lure to the faculty staff a famous professor who had declined all previous overtures. He explained that he owned a house in Westchester on which the Manufacturers' Trust company held a substantial mortgage. He didn't see how he could relieve himself of this obligation. "Leave it to me," said Griffis.

Griffis went straight to Harvey Gibson, high mogul at the Manufacturers' Trust. "You're holding a mortgage for something like forty thousand dollars on the house of a poor college professor. That's not a very good risk," he pointed out. Gibson agreed. "All right," said Griffis. "How about letting a group of the professor's friends pay it off for fifty cents on the dollar? That's probably more than you'll ever realize any other way". Gibson was favorably inclined, and said he'd think it over. The next day, however, Griffis learned the mortgage would have to be paid off in full. It appears that John D. Rockefeller, Jr., had guaranteed it when it was made. "Setbacks like that merely sharpen a fellow's mettle," philosophizes Griffis.

TICKETS ACCEPTED

SALEM, Ore.—Police recently started handing out tickets and gave out 200 before they called a halt. Not a single protest was heard. The tickets were passes to baseball games, and the recipients were typical knot-hole gang members between the age of six and 15.

Rearmament Of Japan Favored If Nation's Threatened

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18—(INS)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur favors the rearmament of Japan to the limit of its resources if it is threatened with attack "by predatory forces bent upon freedom's destruction."

The Supreme Allied Commander made his views known in a letter to Harold Russell, Commander of the Amvets.

At the same time, however, the general of the Army said that there presently is "much more apprehension" among the allied powers "over the prospect of a rearmed and remilitarized Japan than that an unarmed Japan may fall prey to predatory forces bent upon freedom's destruction MacArthur said this feeling is shared "among the great masses of the Japanese people themselves."

The general pointed out that he has already taken measures to create a 75,000-man National Police Reserve "to strengthen Japan's internal security" and added that he will "augment this force further should the need arise."

Rev. James A. Crawford will return to his pulpit Sunday, September 3, after enjoying a vacation from his pastoral duties.

Communists Do Not Intend To Stop In Korea Says Dewey

PINE CAMP, N. Y., Aug. 18—(INS)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey said today that the United States must learn the "obvious lesson" that the Communists do not intend to stop with Korea.

The governor quoted to the 27th Division of the New York National Guard the statement to a war correspondent by an American soldier in Korea:

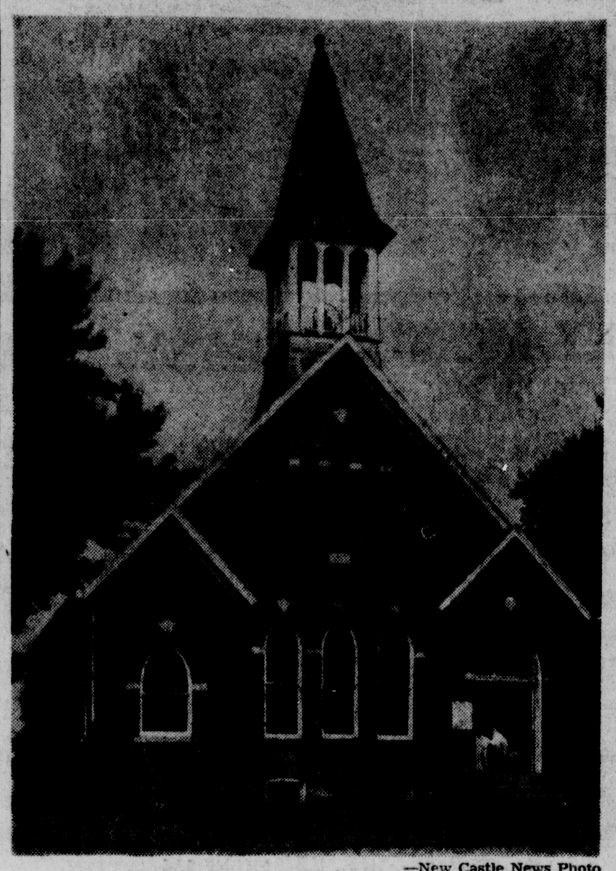

"Every man, woman and child in the United States had better get ready to defend himself. It's Korea today and some other part of the globe tomorrow, and I don't think the Communists have any intention of letting up on us."

Dewey said it was "a sad chapter of history that our country has to learn this obvious lesson from the blood of its sons.

"But if we will only learn it now, it may still not be too late."

King's Chapel Methodist To Observe 146th Milestone

KING'S CHAPEL METHODIST

Members of King's Chapel Methodist church, located on the Pulaski road, will celebrate the 146th anniversary of the founding of their church Sunday, August 20. Appropriate services have been planned for the day with basket picnics at 12:30 o'clock and at 6 o'clock, when coffee will be furnished.

King's Chapel, the oldest Methodist church in Lawrence county, was organized by William Richards and his wife, Anna Roberts Richards. Mrs. Richards was a kin of Bishop Roberts, the first Methodist bishop in this territory. Land for the building was a gift of the King family.

The homecoming Sunday will open with Bible school at 10 a. m., followed by a worship at 11 a. m., when Rev. Harold Kelly will speak. Mrs. Paul Thomas, a returned missionary from Singapore, will offer an organ recital at 2:30 p. m.

Rev. George Palmer, Franklin, will be the speaker at 3 p. m., while there will be a singspiration at 8 p. m.

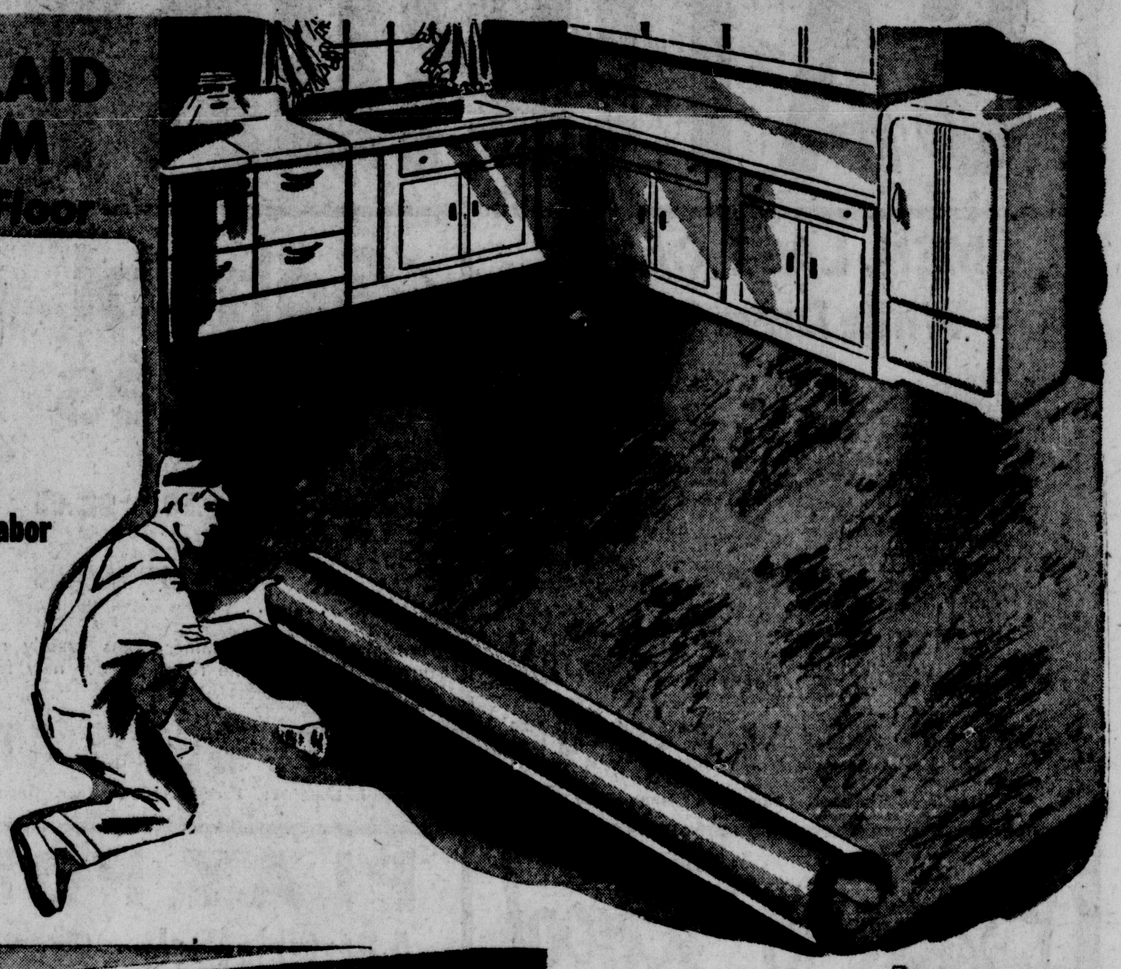

It is expected there will be a large number, including former members and guests, in attendance at the various programs, planned for the Red-letter day in the congregation of King's Chapel church.

Dodgers Defeat Giants Twice, Trail Hot Phils By Six And A Half

Tigers And Indians Win, Senators Defeat Yankees

By CHARLES EINSTEIN
(I. N. S. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—The Brooklyn Dodgers, who operate on the theory of better late than never and probably will be both, launched one last desperation dive today at the coattails of the flying Philadelphia Phils.

Six and a half games behind is not a choice location when you are talking pennant in late August, but Burt Shotton's defending National League champs, swaggering from their double win yesterday over New York, were fighting mad.

Dodgers Win Two

By socking the Giants 8 to 6 and 5 to 1, thereby nullifying New York's own immediate designs on cracking the first division, the Brooks crawled over idle Boston and into second place. Tonight they open a set with the Braves while the Giants and Phils do business together.

The Red Sox moved to within two games of the third-place New York Yankees last night by bopping the Philadelphia Athletics 10 to 6.

Tigers-Indians Win

Meanwhile, both first-place Detroit and second-place Cleveland were winning, while the Yankees were dropping a 2 to 1 heartbreaker to the Washington Senators. It was number 11 for Sid Hudson.

Nine hits and nine walks combined with nine pennant-minded Detroit Tigers to sink the Chicago White Sox 8 to 3.

Reds Top Cubs

A pinch-hit single by Early Wynn with bases loaded in the last of the 12th gave Cleveland's Indians a 5 to 4 victory and a three-game sweep of their series with the Browns. Steve Gromek limited the Browns to one hit to keep the Tribe three and a half games back of Detroit.

Connie Ryan was the real show as Cincinnati and the experienced Ken Raffensberger tapped the Chicago Cubs 2 to 1.

Pittsburgh and the Cardinals were rained out of their scheduled night game at St. Louis.

If the Bucs aren't a demoralized group of individuals, they indeed are complex because their actions seem to illustrate the confusion and lackadaisical approach which is characteristic of demoralization.

One writer, Chilly Doyle, claims this is the worst Pirate club he has seen since he began writing baseball in Pittsburgh, back in 1914.

North County League Completes Schedule With Tonight's Play

North County Baseball League winds up its regular season schedule tonight with two games on the card Volant at Pulaski and East Brook at Eden-Hillers.

Outcome of the Pulaski-Volant clash is important in the final standings of the league since a loss by Volant will result in a tie with New Wilmington, which records an automatic win against Brent, for second place.

A win for the Eden-Hillers in their game with East Brook will give them sole possession of fifth place in the league. A win for East Brook will put the two teams in a tie.

MEETING TONIGHT

There will be an important meeting of the North County League tonight at the fire house in New Wilmington at 9 o'clock, it is announced by league secretary, Ivan Young.

All seven teams remaining in the league should be represented.

PULASKI WINS

Pulaski defeated East Brook 7-2 Wednesday evening at East Brook. Cameron was the winning pitcher, Wilson the loser. Collins of East Brook hit a home run.

Brothers Wins In Sixth Round

Scores Unimpressive Technical Knockout

LAST NIGHT'S RESULTS

Tommy Salem, 129, Cleveland, decisioned Bucky Gardner, 126, Akron four rounds.

Bill Bradley 170, New Castle and Al Heard, 192, Cleveland, drew, four rounds.

Elmer Lakatos 134, Youngstown, T-koed Jimmy Catanese, 130, Cumberland, third round.

Julius Keene, 170, Washington, T-koed Tony Necro, 170, Warren, second round.

Elkins Brothers, 190, New Castle, T-koed Johnny Swanson, 174, Buffalo, sixth round.

Elkins Brothers, 190, New Castle, scored an unimpressive technical knockout over Johnny Swanson, 174 Buffalo, in the sixth round at Flaherty field last night, Referee Mike Hogan stopping the uneven contest.

How Swanson, training partner to Freddie Beshore, ever scored a knockout over Jackie Lyons at Binghamton, N. Y., is inexplicable, unless someone slipped chloroform on Swanson's gloves.

Only in the first round did Swanson show anything, and it was in this round that Brothers landed a left hook low to the groin. The referee gave the weakened Swanson time to recuperate.

From the second round on, Brothers fought aggressively, power being coupled to his blows, but he missed repeatedly, and failed to take advantage of openings which, if observed, would have brought him a knockout.

At the fag end of the second chapter Swanson stood still near his corner, waiting, it appeared to Here & There, as though resigned to defeat, and, in the third, Brothers staggered Swanson with a left to the head.

In the fourth, Swanson, tired and outweighed 16 pounds, turned sideways, squirmed and back-handed Brothers. Apparently Elkins didn't know what to do, to combat the unorthodox style.

In the fifth, Brothers continued to wage an aggressive attack, but his blows aimed at the jaw, missed invariably, and his body punches couldn't find the pit of the stomach.

Swanson flipped his left glove back-handedly and lightly to the face in the sixth. He was very tired. A left hook to the chin and right to the body dropped him in a corner for a count of nine.

Good First Bout

When he arose Elkins hooked another left to the jaw that catapaulted him against the ropes, and sensing that Swanson was too badly outclassed, Referee Mike Hogan properly stopped the affray.

Joe Netro, manager, in behalf of Swanson, after the fight, tried to excuse Swanson's showing by stating: "He was too light."

Had Billy Pozza been in the ring with Brothers last night, it would have been a fight and regardless of Billy's lesser experience, Pozza might have copped Brothers when he missed.

The best fight of the Evening's Evenin', was the first preliminary between Bucky Gardner and Tommy Salem. Salem took advantage of every Gardner miscue and took the last three rounds of a good four round fight.

Bradley Greatly Outweighed

Bill Bradley who apparently plays in bad luck every time he is matched here, gave away 22 pounds to Al Heard of Cleveland and received a draw. Bradley fought Heard to prevent a substitution.

It was a hard fight, but not of the type as waged by Gardner and Salem. They punched hard, worked earnestly, but being heavier, lacked the speed of the first bouters.

Elmer Lakatos had an easy foe in Jimmy Catanese whom he T-koed in the third chapter. Catanese was no match for the good Lakatos who proved a sharp-shooter and a serious one. The referee, Mike Hogan stopped the fight.

Julius Keene T-koed Tony Necro in the second round. Julius, fast and clever, dropped Necro for nine seconds in the second round and when he dropped him a second time, Referee Solomon stopped the fight.

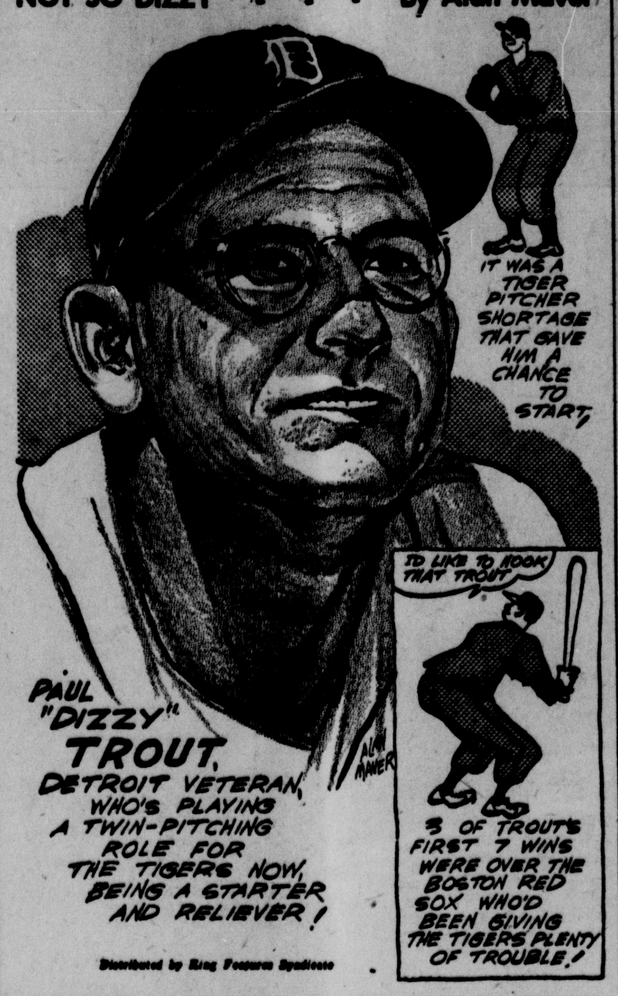

Only 981 spectators paid to see the fight, but scores and scores scaled the fence to see the show which left much to be desired.

The referees who alternated were Mickie Solomon and Mike Hogan. Mike Fazzone was a judge, and Humbert Fazzone, while Bugs Walther announced the show, at times without a "mike" which went lifeless.

The Jefferson A. C. staged the show.

Six and possibly fourteen schools face suspension by the National Collegiate Athletic Association next January at the group's meeting in Dallas for violating the so-called "sanity code."

HERE and THERE IN SPORTS LAND

SEVERAL DAYS AGO Here and There met an old acquaintance, Mr. Harry Amberson, a local artist. During the chatfest, Mr. Amberson remarked that "two of the brightest days of my young life were when I saw Jake Kilrain and John L. Sullivan." He says he saw them both when he wore knee-pants in Beaver Falls. Mention of Kilrain and John L. caused Here and There to delve into the past, and he discovered that Kilrain and Sullivan engaged in the last heavyweight championship fought with bare-knuckles at Richburg, Marion county, Miss., during a sun-broiling morning, July 8, 1889, in a ring set up on the edge of a pine forest.

In those days, John L. was known as the "Boston Strong Boy," and was recognized as the London Prize Ring champion. Kilrain, the challenger came from Greenwood, N. Y., and was a former mill worker. He made his pugilistic debut in 1883, after having become prominent as a single sculler, swimmer, driver of trotting horses and dog fancier.

Kilrain lost when his seconds threw in the sponge after 75 rounds. John L. was never defeated as the London Prize Ring Bare-Knuckle champion, and carried the title to the grave. According to ancient reports of the Kilrain-Sullivan fight, Jake was flabby and outmatched.

John L. received $10,500 for beating Kilrain and in his life-time earnings, from fighting and stage work, the "Boston Strong Boy" amassed $1,221,320. When he fought Jim Corbett, which was for a $25,000 purse, and a side-bet of $10,000, Sullivan lost the winner-take-all fight. The largest sum John L. collected was $14,000 for his fight with Herbert Slade.

REPORTS from one of Here and There's informants of Delta, Ont., says that E. Gene Schweinsberg, city solon, and Eddie Longacre, clerk in the bureau of building, city hall, are waging a successful campaign against members of the Piscatorial tribe which hover beneath the blue surface of Beverly Lake. Their catch includes largemouth bass and northern pike. . . . While here Tuesday, Joe Netro, manager of Johnny Swanson, inquired about George Chip, former middleweight champion, saying: "George 'killed off' one of my fighters years ago. George came to Syracuse to box 'Cave-Man' Fisher. The fighters 'worked in' close, when George let go with a left hook and down went Fisher, out." . . . Geneva starts gridiron practice August 23. Inquiry by Coach West shows that one branch of the military service has requested the temporary services of some of his squad. Included in those who will soon wear a Marine uniform are Archie Zarone, fullback of New Castle. Guard Herbie Stewart, also of New Castle, is a member of the Marines inactive reserve band is subject to military call. . . . Ollie Shannon is watching the trotters and pacers at Saratoga this week.

K. Riley Defeated In State Tournament

Miss Kathleen Riley, of this city, was defeated in the quarter-finals of the Pennsylvania Women's Golf Association tournament by Mrs. T. E. Webster of Philadelphia, 6 to 5, Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Riley qualified for the championship flight in the Reading tournament on Monday. In her first match on Tuesday she defeated Mrs. Daryl Harbough of Pittsburgh, 4 and 2. Mrs. Harbough had tied for medalists honors with a 79.

Mrs. Webster had eliminated last year's national amateur champion, Mrs. Dorothy Porter, on the first day.

Saints-Universal Clash Tonight

City Loop Game At Flaherty Field

St. Margaret defeated the Ecclesian club five to two yesterday in a City Baseball Circuit tilt, thus putting them in a tie with the Universal-Rundle for second place. The Saints and U-R each have won 29 and dropped seven games.

Heavy stickers for the Saints were T. DeFelice who had three singles and J. Tropea with a single and a double. For the Ecclesian club, McCullough delivered a home run and a single.

Annarella was the losing pitcher and Attisano pitched for the winners.

To settle the question of who will finally land second place, the Saints and Universal-Rundle will play at 8:30 p.m. tonight at Flaherty field.

The game will determine the opponents in the Shaughnessy play-off.

The losing team will play the Lawrence Indies with the winner taking on the Franks.

The Shaughnessy play-offs will begin either Saturday night or Sunday afternoon with the games docketed for every evening next week to determine the winner. The winner will represent the city in the Warren, O., regional play-off in the National Amateur Baseball Federation tournament.

Heafner Leads Eastern Open

BALTIMORE, Aug. 18.—(INS)—They chased 235-pound Clayton Heafner into today's second round of the $16,500 Eastern Open golf championship—and at the rate he was going, the giant North Carolinan was going to take some chasing.

With his irons and putter hot enough to melt, Heafner broke the Mount Pleasant competitive course record by two strokes during yesterday's opening 18 holes. Posting a seven-under-par 65 to take a four-stroke lead on the field.

Fred Hass, Johnny Palmer, Buck White, Earl Stewart, Jr., and Baltimore's own Walter Romans posted 69's, while six others had 70's—Pete Cooper, Bill Nary, Otto Greiner, Marty Furgol, Rod Munday and Al Houghton.

If Bill Meyer isn't fired soon as manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, it will be either a miracle or two miracles.

Senators Are Preparing To Battle Youngstown In Next Four Games

The idle Senators, making a concentrated effort to finish either first or second in the Middle-Atlantic League, watched the fights at Flaherty Field last night as their rivals "had" at each other, the results being: Oil City 3, Youngstown 2; Niagara Falls 7, Butler 5; Johnstown 11, Erie 9; Johnstown 6, Erie 2.

As a result today's standings find the Senators leading Butler by three games and Erie by four, with Oil City in front by a game and a half. The Senators meet Oil City here in the final four games and have three to play at Oil City.

Four at Youngstown

The Senators held a long batting drill yesterday to keep them in trim for the four games coming up this week end at Youngstown starting Saturday night. A long afternoon drill was held today.

The three days rest will do the badly overworked pitching staff a world of good. Herb Churchill (14-6) is slowly recovering from a back ailment and will be ready to face Youngstown it was understood. Al Mouton is still bothered by an injured foot suffered at Butler a few weeks ago.

Erie Here Tuesday

Next Tuesday the Erie Sailors will be here to open an important three-game series and it will be "Junior Baseball League Night" at Flaherty Field. Wednesday will be "Gene Bilo Night," when countless hundreds of his Ellwood City friends will be here to pay him tribute with a fine gift and to cheer the Senators on. On the 24th of August the Jefferson Athletic Club will stage a "Tommy Famiglietti Night" at Flaherty Field and will sponsor a large crowd for the Senators.

The Senators are practically assured of a playoff berth, so let's back the boys in their few final home games.

All three New Castle American Legion players selected as candidates for the State All-West Legion team survived the semi-final eliminations for postions on the squad, at St. Marys, Pa., Thursday.

At St. Marys, two five-inning ball games were played and eight big league scouts made the selections. Fifteen out of 40 were chosen to attend the final tryouts at Munhall.

The same system of selection will be used at Munhall, with several short games scheduled so that the scouts can get a look at all boys.

The All-Star game between the All-West and All-East squads will be played at Forbes field on September 1.

Louis To Train In New Jersey

Former Champion Starts August 30

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—(INS)—Those two old friends—former heavyweight champ Joe Louis and the town of Pompton Lakes, N. J., will be reunited August 30 when the brown bomber takes up training at his familiar old camp for his September 27 title match with NBA champion Ezzard Charles.

Though contracts have yet to be signed for the Yankee Stadium bout, International Boxing Club President James D. Norris announced yesterday that Charles and Louis definitely will meet for the crown that night.

To Settle Debt

Louis, who vacated the title on March 1, 1949, is returning to the ring to help settle a tax debt said to be $200,000. His last official fight was June 25, 1948, when he knocked out Jersey Joe Wolcott in the 11th round.

Norris said Louis will receive 35 per cent of the net receipts and Charles 20 per cent. Observers were quick to point out that this is the first time a champion has agreed to fight for less than his challenger, but on the other hand Charles is not recognized as champion by New York state.

Pennsylvania's over-populated deer herd is the top problem confronting the state game commission.

National League president Ford Frick today disallowed the New York Giants' protest of the Phillies' 5-4 victory recently.

Umpires for tonight's game will be Bird Riley, Joe Miller and Jimmy Abraham.

Stegs won the first game of the best-out-of-five series Monday to take the second game Wednesday night and Allen-Huston came back day evening.

Wampum To Play Lawrence Indies

Wampum, of the County Baseball League, will entertain the Lawrence Indies, of the City Baseball League, tonight at 6:15.

Manager Bud Wardman of Wampum plans to use his strongest possible team, with Sad Sam Moore probably getting the pitching assignment.

The Indies are pennant winners in the City Baseball League, while Wampum rests only one-half game away from the lead in the County League.

Duquesne Grids Being Examined

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 18.—(INS)—The Duquesne University football squad was undergoing physical examinations today preparatory to starting daily drills tomorrow.

The squad, 50 men strong, will shove off Sunday, Aug. 27, for more serious work at Camp Buffalo in Washington county.

Coach Phil Ahwest is scheduled to report for active duty with the Army on September 6, but until the time he will carry on as usual as head coach of the Dukes.

City Playgrounds Will Hold Annual 'Play Day' Monday

New Castle's 15 city playgrounds, the center of attraction for school-age youngsters since they opened 12 weeks ago, will terminate their summer activities on August 21 with their annual "play day".

This year, for the first time, the "play day" program will be held at Cascade Park, and children from all the playgrounds will be on hand to join in the festivities.

Arrangements have been made with the Shenango Transportation Co. to supply buses for the children. There will be an hour and a half of free rides on the park concessions in the morning, with reduced rates for the rest of the day. There will be free ice cream during the lunch hour and the pavilion will be open for dancing for the older group.

Supervising "play day" will be Recreation Director Rose Flannery and his staff. Each playground has at least one instructor, and those with larger play areas or the larger attendance have two or more. Most of the instructors are college students majoring in physical education or related fields. Their backgrounds make them well qualified for the work.

Sports

One of the most popular sports at the playground this summer was tether ball. It has been almost impossible to meet the demand for the web-covered rubber balls. However, Mary Sands of the Pollock playground who crochets the covers, has done yeoman work in keeping up the supply.

Softball, volley ball, horseshoes, checkers and table tennis have all been very popular. Dean Park won the city playground softball junior championship. George Washington won the midget title. The baseball honors for the first half in the Recreation league went to Bob Bleggi and his Ecclesians.

Shelter Houses

Laurel, Farrell, West Side and Big Run are equipped wtih shelter houses that have lavatories and all the other conveniences. They are utilized for daily indoor activities. Smaller shelters are being used temporarily at the other grounds primarily for storing equipment.

Art Work

An intensive arts and crafts program, under the direction of Mrs. Morfydd Brown of Croton playground has been one of the best diversions for the youngsters. Painted figurines and gimp work proved most popular. Some of the outstanding work was displayed at the Davis Shoe Co. for a week.

Leader Awards

The following children are first-place winners in the annual "leader" awards contest held at the various playgrounds: Albert Hasson, Big Run; Frank DeFelice, Mahoning; Kathy Marino, Pollock; Carol Bigley, Farrell; Norma Harlan, Laurel; Thomas Eagleson, Shenango; Mickey Lastoria, Croton; Annette Cioffi, Washington; George Schrantz, Harbor; Donald Kirkwood, Gaston; Leroy Maloni, Rose avenue; Steve Mahalic, West Side; Red Irwin, Dean Park; Edward Wrona, Falcon.

They will receive their emblems Monday, as will the second and third-place winners. Awards will also be given to individuals placing first in the major sports activities.

Constantly increasing atendance figures bear out the conviction of most civic-minded New Castleites that the playgrounds are meeting and will continue to meet a vital community need.

An invitation is extended to the public by the Recreation Board to come to Cascade Park and watch the grand finale—"play day".

TOOLS AGING

PHILADELPHIA — William L. Batt, former War Production Board vice chairman, says old-age is overtaking the nation's machine tools at a dangerous rate. The president of SKF Industries, Inc., says two-fifths of such tools are ten years of age or more.

Idaho, California and Nevada are the principal tungsten-producing states in America.
